FRAZEE DENIES RED SOX SOLD—ADMITS NEGOTIATIONS PENDING WITH COLUMBUS MEN

CHICAGO, May 23.—Harry Frazee, owner of the Boston Red Sox, today denied that he had sold the franchise to Columbus men.

Frazee said negotiations were pending for the sale of the club, that he had given the prospective purchasers his price, but that the deal had not been closed.

"I set a price on the club some time ago," President Frazee said, "but the proposition is still in the air. If I get my price, I'll sell."

Sale Announced

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 23.—Today's announcement was made here today that the Boston American League baseball club has been purchased by three Columbus men, who will take possession in October at the end of the present season.

The purchasers are E. M. Schoenborn, Palmer K. Winslow and Dr. Robert R. Drury, who formerly were interested in the Columbus American Association club. Mr. Winslow and Dr. Drury made the announcement of the purchase upon their arrival here this morning from Chicago.

The trio of Columbus men have been in Chicago for several days in connection with the purchase of the Boston club. Palmer Winslow is a glass manufacturer; Dr. Drury is a well-known Columbus surgeon, and Mr. Schoenborn was the first secretary and later was president of the Columbus Association club. He was succeeded as president of the local club by Joe Tinker. Mr. Schoenborn now is the principal owner of the Columbus baseball park. Dr. Drury formerly played baseball, and for several years has arranged his vacation so he could accompany the Cleveland Indians on their southern training trip.

The purchase was consummated yesterday in Chicago, Mr. Winslow said. Continued to Page Three

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE IS DISMISSED

Lewis O. Cook, a shoe manufacturer, residing at 11 Champey street, Brighton, Mass., is exonerated of the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of a young woman, who was struck by defendant's automobile in Moody street and sustained a fracture at the base of the skull which caused her death at the Corporation hospital shortly after.

Cook, who was under $2000 bonds, appeared in the district court this morning and was ordered discharged after the finding of "no criminal negligence" had been read by Judge Knight.

ARMY FLIER MAKES
LETTERS IN THE SKY

The name of a popular brand of cigarettes was written 10,000 feet above Lowell early this afternoon in letters of smoke by Capt. Palt Cox, ex-British army flier, using a S E 5 plane of English construction.

The plane came up-river from Lawrence shortly after 1 o'clock and the airman did his stunt about over Belvidere. That he was holding an altitude of at least 10,000 feet was attested to by the fact that the moment he finished his work he disappeared from view.

The plane came and went so rapidly that only a comparatively few people watched the stunt, which consisted mostly of sweeping spirals that spelled out the name of the cigarettes clearly as to be easily distinguishable from the ground. The smoke letters retained their shape for several minutes before melting into a feathery mass that closely resembled cloud formations near it.

Brockton Shoe Industry Tied Up Tighter Than Ever—Manufacturers Reticent

Stitchers, Vampers and Heelers Added to Ranks of Strikers This Morning

BROCKTON, May 23.—With over 1000 more shoe operatives, stitchers, vampers and heelers, added to the ranks of the strikers this morning, the Brockton shoe industry is tied up tighter than ever.

Many of the new strikers have not been at work since Saturday and not more than half of the total number who voted to strike last night are on the street today in addition to those who were out yesterday.

Brockton shoe manufacturers have little to say regarding the strike. No attempt has been made by them to effect a settlement with the exception of the four small factories who signed up last week with the dressers and neckers' unions. These four factories have not signed with any other union.

Owners of factories were found yesterday afternoon doing all sorts of jobs in the factories. They are making an attempt to get out what shoes they can. The latest strike of the heelers and vampers makes the situation more complicated. Vamping is one of the finest jobs in the shoe industry and requires considerable skill.

Mayor Manning granted two permits to the Brockton district shoe workers this morning. One permit is for a huge parade tomorrow morning, and the other for a big mass meeting on the O'Donnell playground tomorrow afternoon.

The general committee of the new organization announced that an attempt will be made to have every Brockton striker in line and at the mass meeting. The parade will form at 11 o'clock and the mass meeting will follow the parade.

Edmunds, the L. Q. White Shoe Co., of Bridgeville stopped work this morning to attend a meeting in the factory, and voted unanimously to stick by the Root & Shoe Workers' union. The man returned to work after the meeting.

Nine more lasters left their jobs at the Regal Shoe Co. factory at Whitman this morning. They struck in sympathy with the Brockton strikers.

Twenty-one from the Commonwealth Shoe & Leather Co. seven from the Regal Co. factory and nine from the Metropolitan Shoe Co. in Whitman who went out yesterday, comprise the Whitman strikers. The three Whitman factories employ about 2800 shoe workers.

President Joseph E. Lacouture of the Brockton district shoe workers claimed this morning that ten treasurers have left their jobs at the Brockton Shoe Co. in Holybrook. Secretary Dennis E. McCarthy of the new organization talked to workers at the factory Tuesday noon.

Officials of the factory, Brockton men, claim that all workers reported this morning. They deny any treasurers have left their jobs.

Eight Lowell Persons Injured When 7.56 Train to Boston Splits Switch
at Winchester and Leaves Rails

Four Coaches Topple Over on Their Sides and Escapes From Serious Injury Are Miraculous—Train Was Traveling 50 Miles an Hour When Broken Brake Rod Caught in Switch Frog—Nearly 200 Lowell Persons, Many of Them Students, Numbered Among Passengers

Eight Lowell people were injured, none seriously, this morning when the 7.56 Boston express travelling 50 miles an hour, split a switch at the Winchester Highlands station, left the rails and ploughed up 150 yards of roadbed. The injured are:

Mrs. M. Stackpole, 375 Rogers, sprained ankle.
James E. Gorman, 566 Westford, cuts and bruises.
Thomas P. Donnelly, 21 Third, wrist wound.

Abraham Markowitz, 22 Daly, shin abrasion.
C. W. Udell, Dracut, fractured ribs.
Martin Markowitz, 22 Daly, cuts and bruises.

Gerrard Mullen, skin abrasions.
Albert P. Dege, 333 Fairmount, cuts.
Thomas P. Donnelly and Abraham Markowitz were treated at the Winchester hospital and discharged later in the day. All the others from Lowell were brought back to the city in motor cars and were treated by physicians here.

This train is the most popular of all morning trains to Boston from Lowell and accommodates about 200 persons from this city, many of them students at Boston schools and colleges. Scores of business men and women also patronize it.

Seven Cars Derailed

The accident occurred just a few feet south of the Winchester Highlands depot. Trainmen say the primary cause was the dropping of a brake rod on the combination baggage car and smoker. The rod caught in the switch frog derailing seven of the eight cars and leaving only the last coach on the rails. Four of the cars toppled over on their sides and were derailed along for nearly 100 yards before the locomotive came to a stop. Couplings were wrenching apart and on two of the cars the heavy forward wheel trucks were ripped off and thrown to one side of the roadbed.

Several of the cars had ploughed so deeply into the roadbed that they rested on the frame work and for several yards along the right of way the ground was littered with bits of wood where the baggage car had splintered as it was torn from the rails. Huge wooden ties were ripped up and piled beneath the cars in angular shapes and long sections of steel rails were twisted and bent like corkscrews.

The fact that the train parted just back of the baggage car kept the engine and tender on the rails and broke the shock at the front end. It also caused the other cars to come to a sudden stop in soft soil instead of dragging them farther down the tracks and undoubtedly lessened the extent of personal injuries.

Persons in all cars except the last one were hurled from their seats and many sustained superficial cuts and bruises. The more seriously injured were taken into the Winchester Highlands station and four later were carried to the Winchester hospital, only a short distance away.

Women Due From All Parts of America to Join in Record Greek Pageant to Be Held in California

By N.E.A. Service
LOS ANGELES, May 23.—Los Angeles is preparing for what may be the greatest gathering of women that has ever taken place on this continent. On May 29, 10,000 members of the Women's Benefit Association are scheduled to assemble here from every state, Hawaii and the provinces of Canada to participate in a gorgeous Greek pageant.

The occasion is the quadrennial meeting of the association, at which election of officers for the next four years will be held, and other national business of the organization discussed.

Miss Bina W. West of Port Huron, Mich., founder and supreme commander of the association, is credited with having planned every detail of the pageant. She has been working on the plans for this event ever since the last meet four years ago. The result will be a ceremonial with 3000 costumed participants in all colors of the rainbow, presenting the history of the club movement among women, alongside important historic events of the past 30 years. Every state and province will have its own troupe in the grand procession and 1000 massed uniformed guards will give specially designed drill. One thousand children have been trained to give a joy reel in pantomime.

At the convention, Miss West will announce completion of plans for free summer camps open to all members of the association. This, with free health centers for its members, is the task the association has set for itself. The organization has a membership of 275,000, according to Miss West. It started out 20 years ago in debt of $150 for office furnishing. Now the members boast beautiful offices at Port Huron, Mich., and a reserve fund of $12,000,000. Benefits totaling $24,000,000 have been paid out.

Find Machine Guns on Honduran Frontier

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 23.—Large quantities of ammunition, with machine guns, and hand grenades were found hidden near the Honduran frontier by Nicaraguan military authorities. The government believes the supplies were left by the revolutionists of August, 1921, in their attempt to overthrow General Lopez Gutierrez, president of Honduras. The Nicaraguan government is determined that revolutions cannot be fomented in this country against other Central American republics in compliance with the treaty negotiated at Washington last December.

Bryan to Renew Attacks on Darwinism

The defeat of Mr. Bryan's resolution came at the end of a stormy session in which fundamentalists and liberals at times indulged in personalities. The debate is expected to break out afresh today when the committee on bills and overtures brings in its report on the case of Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, liberalist leader.

at St. Margaret's Church

There was a large attendance at the funeral of Dr. Thomas Burke Smith, medical examiner for Northern Middlesex county, and one of the most prominent physicians of this city, which took place this morning. The funeral cortege, headed by an automobile filled with floral offerings, left the home of the deceased, 62 Florence avenue at 8 o'clock and wended its way to St. Margaret's church, where at 9 o'clock, a high mass of requiem was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Chas. Gilligan. Seated within the sanctuary were Rev. John C. Duffy, O.M.I., of Tewksbury, Rev. M. C. Gilbride of Collingdale, Rev. David J. Murphy, formerly of North Billerica and now of Dorchester, and Rev. D. J. Heffernan of St. Peter's church, this city.

EMBROIDERED NEGLIGEE

Simple embroidery is the means of making simple negligees attractive. Single stitch, outline, darning stitch and lazy-daisy are the kinds of embroidery most used on summer breakfast coats and kimono of voile, dotted swiss or crepe de chine.

Not that these are the same as the breakfast coats of other years! Even here fashion has a word to say and the word is side sashes, bloused styles and wide cuffs.

The embroidery is usually brilliant colors—jade green, peacock blue, violet, lemon, gold and red.

Frazer Denies Red Sox Sold

$1,250,000 Involved
BOSTON, May 22.—The sale of the Boston American League baseball club to Columbus, Ohio, interests involved at least $1,250,000, it was believed here. This is the price asked by President Frazer in recent negotiations with interested parties. Previous bids are said to have approached within $150,000 of that figure. Transfer of the club is self and of Fenway park, a majority in both of which Frazer owns, is comprised in the deal.

The sale marks the passing from baseball in this city of the man who has sold more star baseball players probably than any owner of a major league team. Frazer succeeded J. J. Lannin, who was owner of the world champion teams of 1912, 1915 and 1916, after the Sox had won the world championship in the latter year. The championship of that team was sold or traded singly or in groups until today none

I presume that the smoking car breaking away from the rest of the train was a good thing.

Among the Boston college high school students on the train from Lowell were Francis Reagan, Patrick Wynn, Fred Leary, Joseph Buckley, Daniel Whelan, John Craven, Gilbert Hunt, colleges.

Francis Ward, Paul Polsey, Edward Murphy, Joseph Sweeney, Sylvester O'Toole, John Brennan, Philip Mullane, John Gallagher and Victor Rochette. There also was a large quota of Boston University boys and girls as well as many students at Boston business colleges.

AID SURVIVORS OF SHIPWRECK

Relief Organizations Take Charge of 436 Survivors at St. John's N. F.

Were Rescued When Canadian Pacific Liner Marvale Went Down

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 23.—Relief organizations of this city early today were prepared to take charge of the 436 passengers and crew of the Canadian Pacific liner Marvale, rescued when the vessel went down after striking a reef off Newfoundland Monday, when they arrived in this city from the little town of Trepanier.

All of the passengers and a few of the crew were aboard a train bound for St. John's. The remainder of the crew, numbering 150, were aboard the government steamer Susan, which is making for this port.

The shipwrecked company, including numerous women and about 20 infants, suffered severely from cold, loss of sleep, and scarcity of food. All lost their personal possessions, excepting the clothing they were wearing. It was planned to keep the Marvale passengers here until the Canadian Pacific liner Scotia arrived from Montreal to take them on board.

All joined in praise for Captain Lewis, declaring that his seamanship, coolness and judgment were responsible for the salvation of passengers and crew. When the Marvale crashed into what has been a great loss of life, the ship was in a perilous position. The big ship went down in seven fathoms, a mile from the beach, and the small boats proceeded to the little fishing village of St. Shotts where temporary though scanty relief was accorded the survivors.

ated its contents to the Associated Press. Major Pinger stated that late Sunday afternoon there was a communication in the hands of the mountain stronghold and he was notified he was to be taken to the summit of the mountain, which is almost inaccessible.

Jeff Solomon and Major Robert Allen, the latter also an American army officer, accompanied him. "We climbed a thousand feet above summit," wrote Major Pinger, "the last 200 being almost sheer. We went up slowly and laboriously, ascending by means of hand and footholds cut in the rock."

"When we finally reached our all-weather destination, we were assigned to quarters hopelessly foul, already occupied by Chinese who probably were old prisoners held for ransom. We unanimously disapproved of our lodging and looking around, found a small, well-furnished room, though small. We cleaned it out the best we could, all of us voicing the hope that it would be our last captive home."

"We are away up in the air, as high as Mount Tamalpais at San Francisco, with a beautiful country spread out around us. The view is like an artist's dream. But it serves to emphasize our isolated surroundings here. While down below, everything seemed blessed with a Sabbath peace and calm, our immediate surroundings suggested only the wickedness of man to man."

Major Pinger stated he believed the action of the bandits in choosing three Americans to move to the Paotaku summit was for the purpose of obtaining official American notice and thus speeding up the negotiations between the Chinese government and the brigands for the release of the captives. He added that the bandits do not trust the Chinese government and would undoubtedly welcome foreign intervention.

Captives Still Alive

SHANGHAI, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Relief workers at the stronghold of the Szechow train bandits, today reported the arrival of messengers from the brigands' mountain retreat with the information that the outlaws had not carried out their death threat against the foreign captives.

The prisoners, it was stated, are in good health, except C. D. Mussen, the Italian lawyer of Shanghai, who has been ill for a number of days.

No News For 48 Hours

PEKING, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—At the foreign legations today it was said that for 48 hours, no information had come from Lanchow regarding the Szechow bandits and their foreign captives.

"There have been no replies to the last two notes which the diplomatic corps served on the foreign office, both notes insisting emphatically on the release of the foreigners and the last communication expressed astonishment at the Chinese government's failure to accomplish anything."

Government sources indicate that among Chinese officials opinion is divided on the course to pursue in view of the legations' insistence that no force be employed in rescuing captives lest they be harmed in retaliation.

Foreign and Chinese opinion generally discounts the government's efforts to obtain the captives peacefully. It is pointed out in the last analysis the decision rests on Marshal Tsoo Kun, head of the Chihli military party.

Messengers to Peking have raised the question of the seizure of Marshal Berthel, the Frenchman who was released by the bandits with an ultimatum by the government. The captives, attacked by fears for their own safety, are said to be demanding his return to the outlaws' stronghold, contending that he was only paroled. The release of Berthel, it is said, would be a blow to the government's position.

Members of the legations are released and have no intention of returning, and there has been no information from the bandits that he is expected back.

Three Blocks of Buildings Destroyed by Fire at Mexicali, Lower California

Blaze Started in Moving Picture Theatre—Loss May Reach $5,000,000

MEXICALI, Lower California, May 23.—Fourteen persons are known to have been killed and more than three blocks of buildings were destroyed by a fire which started last night in the operating room of a moving picture theatre here. The loss was placed at from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000, the higher figure being credited to agents of companies which had insured the buildings. One thousand persons were made homeless.

While only fourteen bodies have been recovered, local officials say at least 20 were killed and unofficial estimates put the number of deaths at a much higher figure. Many Chinese had underground lodgings in the district burned over and officials say it is probable many of the Chinese were trapped by the flames in the tunnels.

The known dead include the Mexican operator of the motion picture machine in the theatre where the fire started, and a hotel bartender believed to be from Napa, Cal. Most of the other victims were Chinese.

There was no rear exit from the theatre.

FROM CARPET WEAVER TO BANK DIRECTOR

NEW YORK, May 23.—Mrs. Sara Conboy was a good carpet weaver. So the other day a number of staid and serious business men got together and made her director of a bank!

It is the first time in the state that a woman has held such a position. And probably no other woman would fill the position quite as Mrs. Conboy means to do.

For the things she learned as a carpet weaver will determine her decisions as a bank director. "I haven't any education," she says, "except such as I've picked up myself. My father died when I was 11 years old and I went into a candy factory to work. I worked 10 hours a day for 35 a week."

"When I was 16 I got a job in a carpet mill. Then I met a letter carrier and we were married. A year later he died. To support myself and my baby daughter I went back to work in the mill."

Her Opportunity

"How did I ever get out of it? An offer came to go out on the road organizing textile workers. In those days organizers were not paid much. The work was hard and I was tired. But it was a chance to help other people and I wanted to forget my sorrow. So I went."

"It seems to me now that opportunity comes only once to a person. That was my opportunity. I travelled all over the United States urging shorter hours and better pay for the textile workers. A great part of the time I was working 18 hours a day that other women might have died."

The battle is not yet won for the 15-hour week among textile workers is by no means universal. But in the meantime Mrs. Conboy has attained to the position of international secretary and treasurer of the United Textile Workers, an organization of 125,000 members, and she holds positions in some half dozen other national organizations.

Plans For Workers

The austere position of bank director holds no terrors for her. "The bank was organized first of all," she says, "with the money of working people. Two things are sure of that this money shall not be used to defeat these people who have troubles arise; and that in the future, exchange money shall be honestly transferred to those to whom it is due."

But more than all this, I am interested in taking married women and young girls out of the factories and putting them back in their homes. It can be done when working men are paid enough to support their families in comfort."

Manufacturers point with pride to the day machines where working men may bring and leave their children.

"It is a peculiar circumstance that the factory is always just a short distance away."

Appointment of Baldwin in Accordance With Popular Wishes, Says Press

Some of the Opposition Critics Regard Appointment as Triumph for Die-Hards

LONDON, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.) No incoming prime minister could wish for a letter reception from the press than that accorded Stanley Baldwin. The morning newspapers say the appointment is in accordance with popular wishes and is the best solution under the circumstances. Reports from conservative quarters throughout the country confirm this opinion.

The comments of the labor and liberal newspapers are influenced of course by political considerations but none has a word against Mr. Baldwin personally. Some of the opposition critics, however, regard the appointment as a triumph for the die-hard section of the conservative party. The Daily Chronicle, a staunch supporter of David Lloyd George, says:

"It testifies to an orientation of the conservative which is full of menace for the nation's future." Lord Curzon, the newspaper continues, was passed by because the die-hard have declared a vendetta against him. The Chronicle sneers at Mr. Baldwin's budget, and regarding his part in the Anglo-American debt negotiation it says: "It is possible that no negotiator could have got better terms, but it is certain that none would have got worse."

This remark is apparently inspired by Mr. Lloyd George's speech before his constituents at Llanfairfechan last night, in which he former prime minister, notwithstanding his promise to refrain from captious criticism, made it clear that the new ministry would receive less forbearance from the Lloyd George following than did Bonar Law. The speech is generally interpreted as foreshadowing a consistent Georgeite opposition.

Curzon to Remain

LONDON, May 23. (By the Associated Press.)—Lord Curzon will continue to act as secretary for foreign affairs in the cabinet of Prime Minister Baldwin, according to unofficial predictions in government circles today.

One of Lord Curzon's first acts in his new ministry will be to deal with Russia's second reply to the British ultimatum, which it is expected Leonid Krasin, soviet representative here, will hand in today or tomorrow.

Bill Hart's Prediction Is Fulfilled

BARBARA BEDFORD

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
HOLLYWOOD, May 23.—Barbara Bedford, one of the most promising of the screen's young leading ladies, is the prophetic of Bill Hart's fulfilled. Not that the two sun-men, comedians, had personally much to do with her progress, but he saw her first, predicted a sure career and helped her over the initial obstacles.

Having just seen Miss Bedford in a preview of Jesse D. Humphrey's production of Rex Beach's "The Spoilers" for Goldwyn 14 say that Hart is entitled to an emphatic "I told you so." For in that picture, although it will not be exhibited until fall, she amply justified the prediction.

Hart's professional interest in Barbara Bedford reciprocated her admiration for his work from the days when as a Chicago school girl she wrote fan letters and collected autographed photos of film celebrities. When she came west to venture the movies, her first appearance as "extra" was in Hart's "Cracks of Courage."

"There's a girl who's going to make good," he said to Director Lambert Hillier, singling her out from the mob. "The tall one, with dark hair and eyes. Note her expression. Sort of haunting, that face. Call her over." And thus she was picked for her first bit.

Regretting that he was never able to give his "discovery" the big opportunity in his own pictures he brought her to the attention of several influential directors and watched her progress with interest.

Lambert Hillier, who coached Miss Bedford in that first bit, also directed her in "The Spoilers," to which she brings a vivid finished contribution as heroine of the Alaska epic.

Miss Bedford is a canny girl. She prefers playing leading roles in all-star casts to sparkling in lone splendor, the wisdom of which is apparent in the fact that free lance players of star calibre are few and can under present keen competition of producers virtually dictate their own salaries and select their own roles.

Outside of players tied up under long contracts with corporations, Miss Bedford is one of about 70 comprising the select set from which most big productions are cast.

Mindful of the fate of many former stars who allowed vanity to sway better judgment, preferring stardom at any cost, Barbara Bedford some time ago secured her release from a stellar contract with a company whose vehicles she felt weren't carrying her forward.

In private life, Miss Bedford is Mrs. Albert Roscoe. Her husband played the leading male role in "Java Head," and takes a short part with her in "The Spoilers."

MERRIMACK PARK OPENS SATURDAY

Next Saturday afternoon, May 26th, has been selected as the formal opening date for Merrimack Park, the popular amusement and recreational resort located just half-way between Lowell and Lawrence on the boulevard. Starting next Saturday and continuing throughout the entire season the park will open its gates every day at one o'clock and a daily program of events of more than usual interest has been arranged to entertain the patrons of this popular fun center. The grand concert has been organized and additional features have been added making this roller coaster one of the most thrilling rides in the country. "The Old Mill Chutes," "The Tugboat," "Airplane Rides," "The Whip," "The Cannon," as well as other fun features, all of which will be ready for the "kiddies" as well as the "grown-ups," who have been housed up all winter and are just itching to get out and spend a holiday on wheels. The large dance pavilion has been redecorated and many attractive features of unusual merit have been added. The management that will be new to this section and Professor John Broderick will again be seen with his famous ten piece orchestra furnishing that well known brand of "Jazz" that has made Broderick's one of the most popular dance teams in New England. Professor Broderick has secured several new musicians to top notch speed. Then there will be the motion picture theatre with a complete change of high class pictures and a musical program every day, which will include all the favorite film stars of today.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Recuperation," with Jack Norton & Co. featuring the best what is called the "healthy comedy." It is the feature of this week's bill at the R. F. Keith Theatre. Harry Jolson, brother of the famous Al Jolson, is a very likeable and he is recorded as one of the most successful funmakers and singers of the year. Harry & his troupe are entirely new to this city and they put forward a decidedly novel funmaking turn. Mabel Burke and Norma Lehighland and musical singers of the year. Harry & his troupe have been much prized during the past season. Others on the bill of note are: Kurt and Edith Kuehn, Carr & Brey and the Michon Bros.

THE STRAND

The last opportunity of seeing the big Goldwyn super photoplay, "The Christian," with Richard Dix, Mae Busch and an all-star cast will be offered today. If you haven't seen it then you want to avail yourself of today's chance. Then there is a good comedy drama entitled "The Love Letter," with Gladys Walton starring, as well as a good Weekly issue and other contributions.

"Are You a Failure?" a Tom Forman production with Madge Bellamy and others of film note in the cast, will be the chief attraction for the week end, beginning Thursday. The story is an original one from the versatile pen of Larry Evans.

The recent feature presents Ed (Mont) Gibson in "The Gentleman From America." It's a story of two pals of the A.E.F. who are given a furlough and who run into a pack of trouble and adventures before they get back to the ranks again. The rest of the bill will be in keeping with the high standard established by the former features.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Harold Lloyd has all Lowell giggling, laughing and roaring by his antics in "Safety Last," his latest and greatest comedy which is playing at the Merrimack Square theatre all this week, with no advance in prices. Don't miss this feature. It's truly the funniest piece of work Lloyd has ever done and, furthermore, it's the first seven-reel comedy ever put on the screen. There is a big surrounding bill with Reginald Denny in "The Leatherpushers," one of the big attractions.

CROWN THEATRE

"Billy Jim," a comedy-drama of the most delicious sort, will be screened at the Crown theatre for a period of two days, beginning today. It presents Fred Stone, the noted musical comedy star, in one of the most lovable roles of his career and local devotees of the photoplay are certain to enjoy it to the utmost. "Billy Jim" is the story of a love-sick cowboy and his experiences in seeking the hand of a beautiful girl from the background of a delightful story—a story rich in romance and humor and adventure.

NEW JEWEL THEATRE

The New Jewel theatre management has arranged another excellent program for today and tomorrow at the popular Merrimack street theatre. The feature attraction will be "Mother O' Mine," a big first National attraction in eight reels, featuring an all-star cast in a stirring story of mother love. Leo Moloney in his latest Western production, the newest episode of "The Social Buccaneers," a comedy and other features will round out the bill. Tonight Sam Cohen and his amateurs will give their usual snappy entertainment.

"You've Got to See Mamma Ev'ry Night"

The popularity of this musical, self-starting hit is spreading like an epidemic. If you want the finest version of it ever played, get the Columbia Record, by The Georgians.

Like dynamite, cathartics destroy

MEDICAL science is emphatic on this point. "Probably one of the most frequent causes of constipation" as one well-known physician declares, "is the indiscriminate use of cathartics."

Here is the reason: although cathartics give temporary relief, they do it by nervous irritation, and require larger and larger doses in order to blast their way through. Little by little the muscles of the intestines (which should expel by their own action the "waste" that is clogging your system) grow weak with lack of exercise, and finally unable to act at all.

The only real remedy for constipation lies in building up these muscles—in gently encouraging them to act for themselves.

Restoring thousands of sufferers to perfect normal health

That is why so many physicians and hospitals are prescribing Fleischmann's Yeast today. Every cake of Fleischmann's fresh yeast consists of millions of tiny living plants which soften and increase the bulk of the waste matter. This greater bulk gently encourages the intestinal muscles to act, and at the same time strengthens them by offering just the resistance they need.

Every such action gives these intestinal muscles normal, natural exercise (something that violent cathartics can never do) and so gradually trains them back to a strong, healthy, active state.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women are finding in Fleischmann's Yeast the key to freedom from all the evils of constipation. They are learning that a body freed from poisons means such health and vigor as they have never known.

Fleischmann's Yeast, like any other food, must be eaten regularly to secure results.

Eat at least two or three cakes a day—plain, or dissolved in water, milk or fruit juices—preferably half an hour before a meal or the last thing at night. If you eat it plain, follow with a glass of water. Get several cakes at a time—they will keep several days in a cool, dry place. Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast! All grocers have it.

What this does for the muscles of your arm, Fleischmann's Yeast does for the muscles of your intestines—giving them natural, healthy exercise.

"A vigor and strength unknown for years"

"I have been subject to constipation for the past fifteen years" writes a Western business man. "After having tried many remedies with no results, I began taking Fleischmann's Yeast three times a day. Within a few months I have been relieved of this trouble and now feel a vigor and strength unknown to me for years."

OBSERVE EIGHT-HOUR DAY ANNIVERSARY

The 22nd anniversary of the eight-hour working day in this country was observed last evening with a social and dance in Liberty Hall under the auspices of Local 19, Carpenters' union. The affair was largely attended and the evening's program was very enjoyable. In the early part of the evening a variety program was carried out under the direction of Daniel McGolden, a member of the organization. Those who spoke were Theodore M. Gartin of Troy, N. Y., representative of the executive board of the first district of the National Carpenters' union; Joseph Convery, Entertainment numbers were given by Jack McArthur, Edward Dumas, Charles J. Rogers, Misses Lena, Mary, Ella and Bertha Lyon, Paul Angelo accompanied on the piano. There was also a fancy dance by Little Miss

50 SACKS OF PARCEL POST DESTROYED

WORCESTER, May 23. About 50 sacks filled with parcel post were destroyed here today by fire which was discovered in a steel railway mail coach, attached to the Albany-bound express from Boston. Postal and railroad employees and firemen saved most of the contents of sacks from being destroyed although much mail was damaged. The mail car was bound from Boston to Washington, and was to be dropped off at Springfield. The car was out of the express which was delayed but a few minutes. Steel construction of the car was said by officials to have prevented total loss of the 1200 sacks. Officials believe the fire was started either by spontaneous combustion or by the breaking open of a package of inflammable goods.

NANCE O'NEIL PLAYING AT THE OPERA HOUSE

After an absence of many years, America's greatest tragedienne, Miss Nance O'Neil, familiar to Lowell's older devotees of the legitimate stage and ever increasing in popularity with the younger element came back to Lowell with the Al Lutzinger stock players in the Opera House last night, appearing with all the finesse of her earlier days in the leading role in the big Broadway attraction, "The Passion Flower."

As Raimunda, the soul-stricken Spanish mother, Miss O'Neil portrays a character that calls for emotionalism in the highest degree, and in the initial presentation last evening, the star

needed no other enunciation than the awe and suspense in which she held her audience in the various trying scenes. She lived the character of Raimunda in a clever, appealing manner, showing that in the interpretation of that character, she has found one of the greatest roles of her brilliant career.

"The Passion Flower" tells the story of a great love, Raimunda, intensely attached to her second husband, Estaban, falls to notice the burning desire in the latter's heart for Acacia, Raimunda's beautiful daughter, and known in the busy Spanish village as "The Passion Flower." Alfred Hickman plays the part of Estaban a very exacting role which requires the application of everything known to his art. Mr. Hickman makes a splendid Estaban, a husband, a lover, an intriguer and murderer the whole being bound up in the one individual Estaban in a style calculated to enthrall and claim due recognition from any audience. Miss Olga Hanson, leading lady of the Lutzinger players, steps into the role of the daughter, Acacia, and supports Miss O'Neil as only a woman of her experienced talent can. Decidedly adapted to the type of Spanish daughter and represents, Miss Hanson fulfills the role of "The Passion Flower" with a dignity and grace that is only superceded by the cleverness of the tragic interpretations of Miss O'Neil herself.

Victor Brown, leading man of the Lutzinger players, is seen to advantage as Norbert, former sweetheart of Acacia, a rival and betrothed to Acacia. The latter character falls to the lot of Fred Harvey, whose limited presence on the stage was enough to stamp him as a supporter of the first rank. Mr. Brown played Norbert with his customary facile attitude.

"Bubie," the bad man, was wonderfully enacted by Richard Morgan, whose characterizations of such parts in previous Opera House presentations, has met with most favorable criticism, added to his prestige in the person of Bubie. Mr. Morgan has a faculty for making his audience like him, even though he appears in a despicable character. His make-up as Bubie, his thrilling voice and the very naturalness of his interpretation added materially to winning new friends for "The Passion Flower."

In the role of Juliana, the legation, but lovable old servant, Rachel May Clarke is well deserving of the highest commendation while Marguerite Slavin, Helen Kinzel, J. Russell Webster and Malcolm MacLeod, the latter a typical Spanish father completed a cast worthy of the great tragedienne for the notable co-operation between the star and her supporting players last night placed "The Passion Flower" on a high pedestal in the local theatrical world and will, no doubt, continue to meet with the success so characteristic of all Nance O'Neil stage vehicles.

Y. M. H. A. JUNIORS HOLD MEETING

A regular meeting of the Y. M. H. A. Jr. was held last evening at Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, and it was planned to hold a dance on June 20 at the Pawtucket bathhouse.

A spy ball team has been formed and has held several practice games at Lincoln park.

Last Sunday the Knickerbocker club linked to Robin Hill and they are planning on holding several more hikes in the near future.

After the completion of the business, dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

POLICEWOMAN SPEAKER AT CLUB MEETING

Miss Emily Skilton, a local policewoman, gave a talk on the troubles of the young people of today to the members of the Educational club at their regular meeting in the Central M. B. church yesterday afternoon.

Prior to Miss Skilton's talk, the regular business of the meeting was transacted with Mrs. Harry J. Maguire, the president, in the chair, and Mrs. Foss acting as secretary pro tem.

Miss Skilton told of the influence of the social life in a community on the home and said that there was no situation so important as the home but that the influences received in the home were sometimes not for the best because there are different kinds of mothers. She stressed the lack of control that is evident in many homes where girls are allowed to do as they please because a few tears soon change the mother's determination to make the girls do a thing and they are allowed to run wild.

"From the dance hall," she said, "girls will go off in a fast riding car and have off-times comes trouble. It has been said that give a young man a high-powered car, jazz and late hours and he will ride to ruin." Take, too, the "happies" who will be the companion of these men. They care for nothing but powder, paint and bobbed hair."

Miss Skilton also scored the young women who carry on a too familiar conversation with the young men where they work, and who become altogether too familiar with foreigners and even go out walking with them. She said that the girls did not seem to realize the danger that lurks in being too familiar in their conversation.

In conclusion she said: "Now, I will say that if you get the community interested in the boys and girls, the community will then take steps to see that the right recreation is afforded them, which in the end will be for the future good of the community and, in turn, mean better and happier homes. Have we not a tremendous responsibility resting upon us, that of helping to make the young grow up ornaments in the community, living valuable and useful lives?"

CHURCH BOARD MEETING

The regular meeting of the official board of the Central M. E. church was held last night in the church vestry, but owing to the lack of a quorum no important business was transacted. The meeting had been called for the purpose of making a survey of the expenditures of the church but the matter was indefinitely postponed.

20,000,000 IN U. S. ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 23.—Present widespread education in the United States was declared to be a condition unprecedented in history by Joy Elmer Morgan, editor of the Journal of the National Education association in an address today before the special libraries association.

"Those who damn the public school," he asserted, "fail to take into account the great masses of the American people whose faith in the school is second only to their faith in the American home. In spite of shortcomings the elementary schools of the United States are reaching 20,000,000 children. These schools are more efficient than the schools of a generation ago."

If The Wheels
Stopped Turning

IF the wheels in every one of the sixty mills operated by the American Woolen Company stopped turning today, more than 35,000 men and women would be jobless tomorrow.

Affecting all classes from the wool grower in the field to the man on the street, the cessation of the activities of this company would react adversely upon every industry in the country, such is the scope and magnitude of its operations.

That the wheels may continue to turn, that countless thousands may continue to be happy at their work, that men and women may continue to buy good clothing at fair prices, and that prosperity may continue to be the reward of endeavor—that is the purpose of the American Woolen Company and the reason for its existence.

Flowers are a mark of refinement and culture regardless of where they appear. The woodland beds of violets, the snowy banks of laurel, the blue, honest of the phlox and a thousand others are nature's expression of refinement.
Flowers about the home, like the clothing worn by the inmates, bespeak the very soul of the people who dwell within. Reasonable simplicity in planting flowers and shrubs about the home is a mark of good breeding and artistic refinement.
Expensive plantings of shrubbery and flowers are not essential, in fact are undesirable in most cases. The most effects can generally be produced by using plants that are either native to the region or those that may be easily grown from seeds or cuttings.

To Beautify Home
To make home surroundings beautiful, first, secure a smooth, clean carpet of grass on the lawn; second, provide suitable shade trees where the available space is sufficient; third, plant a reasonable variety of shrubbery or other plants around the house so as to have something in bloom the greater part of the time.
Another factor in home adornment is the use of annual and perennial foliage and blooming plants to fill in the shrubbery and provide harmonious color effects. In the main, the scheme should be one of border effects, the cen-

LIGHTIN' COMING DIRECT FROM BOSTON

"Lightnin'" the famous comedy that has eclipsed every record for big receipts and length of run in New York, Chicago and Boston, will be seen at the Opera House for two nights beginning Monday, May 28th.

Written by Winchell Smith and the late Frank Baron, with splendid characterizations and a real idea as a basis, "Lightnin'" is said to provide one of those evenings in the theatre that are all too rare. "Lightnin'" is described as a bright, wholesome American comedy, having as its central figure Lightnin' Bill Jones, one of the quaintest, most lovable, most genuinely humorous characters that the stage has seen in years. He is a clerk who is a tippler, the champion bar of his county, a shiftless never-do-well but without a philosophy and true friend. There has been no more lovable character in the theatre since the days of the older Jefferson.

MANY RADIO PROBLEMS

Leaders in This Country Are Studying the Situation in England

America's radio problems are looming larger and leaders in the industry in this country are studying the situation in England, where a demand for "wireless freedom" and relief from "the boredom of the lustreless program" has gone up.

Conditions on this side of the Atlantic, it is pointed out, cannot be finally resolved without close consideration of the point of view of the individual.

Listeners are multiplying so rapidly, as a result of the adoption of radio instrumentalities by churches, universities and newspapers, that discussion of proposed legislation meets with a wide range of suggestions. All this, radio men say, means that the man in the street is becoming an increasingly important factor in shaping the development and regulation of the art. The National Radio chamber of commerce is adding listeners to its membership so that the voice of the public may be heard when constructive plans are framed.

In England, it is said, 200,000 people are now breaking the law by listening in without license. The law, according to the "London Daily Express," is a dead letter. Opponents of the British monopoly are reviving the cry, "you cannot indict a whole nation." The wholesale "piracy" exists, it is said, because listeners-in cannot buy the license they require.

The whole question in England is said to hang on the word "transmission." "Can the meaning by any quibble be stretched to include 'listening-in'?" it is asked. The whole fabric of the wireless telegraphy act of 1904 gives the postmaster-general the power to enforce wireless licenses, may be based upon an illegality. It is charged. English firms and newspapers are offering to begin broadcasting at once for nothing in order to provide better programs.

G. B. Cooper of New York, one of the governors of the National Radio chamber of commerce, and a member of the Hoover conference committee, says that the English situation is a warning to the United States. "There has been much discussion as to ways and means of supporting broadcasting," according to Mr. Cooper. "It has been suggested that we use the British method, by which a government controlled monopoly was formed, the postoffice department collecting a tax from all owners of receivers. This tax is used to support the broadcasting monopoly. "In the United States, it has been found that there are plenty of private business organizations, including newspapers, which are willing to furnish free broadcasting to the public. The newspapers are coming to regard broadcasting as a part of their function as publishers of news. Education considers broadcasting as a useful element of extension teaching. Manufacturers view broadcasting as a part of their regular overhead, necessary in the manufacture and sale of equipment. "Therefore, the American public should be assured of permanent, free broadcasting, in contrast with the conditions prevailing in England, where agitation against monopoly is assuming considerable proportion.

"Monopoly exists in England. We have no monopoly in the United States and we should have none, either of broadcasting or of apparatus essential to the transmission and reception of broadcasting. The whole field of radio in this country should be kept open to competition because it is only by competition that manufacturers receive the incentive to work for greater efficiency. It is competition that has made the United States lead the world in industrial supremacy and it is competition that will heighten this supremacy through radio, which may be destined to work a revolution in human thought and understanding."

Helpful Advice to Overworked Women

MRS. C. E. CHAPMAN
1520 Elm St., New Albany, Ind.

DAY in and day out, week in and week out the tired, over-worked housewife and mother toils on, sweeping, dusting, cooking, cleaning and mending. Is it any wonder that after a time a weakness, such as Mrs. Chapman had, develops and the wife and mother pays a toll in physical weakness and pain for her efforts of love, the natural result of overwork?

Women who find themselves afflicted with weakness, pain, headaches, backache, nervousness, irritability and melancholia will be interested in Mrs. Chapman's letter, and should realize that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is especially adapted to overcome such conditions.

Mrs. Chapman's Letter Reads as Follows:

NEW ALBANY, IND.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a weakness which many women have from over work, and from which I suffered for quite a while. I wasn't fit to do my work and my sister advised me to take this medicine. After the first few days the pains were not so severe as they had been and after taking a few bottles I am not bothered any more. I am doing my housework every day and highly recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman suffering from female trouble. Only yesterday a friend called me on the phone and knowing what it did for me, wanted to know what to ask for at the drug-store, as she meant to give it a trial."—MRS. C. E. CHAPMAN, 1520 Elm Street, New Albany, Indiana.

Another Case of Nervous Breakdown

MEMPHIS, TENN.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nervous were a wreck. I could not sweep a room without resting. I could not do any of my work except a little at a time and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw a little book on to my porch and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself. I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and before I had taken the whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."—MRS. O. J. HINCKLEY, 315 Union Avenue, Memphis, Tenn.

DRIVER LOST CONTROL

Heavy Truck Rips Watering Trough From Base and Destroys Trees

The heavy east iron watering trough at the intersection of Perry and Rogers streets was torn from its base shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when it was struck by a heavy, banana-loaded truck, bound from Boston to Concord, N. H., and operated by Orlando J. Clampos of 25 Chelsea street, Boston.

In attempting to avoid a collision with a truck owned by John Brady and a smaller car about half a mile down the Rogers street hill, the Boston truck driver lost control of his machine and it plunged over to the sidewalk, knocking down trees as it careened down grade and into the watering trough. Four men riding on the truck jumped to safety just before it knocked the trough for a row of pyramids and sent a large spout of water 12 feet into the air.

INTER-CITY TRUST HEAD ARRAIGNED TODAY

(Special to The Sun.)

EAST CAMBRIDGE, May 22.—S. Leland Montague of Cambridge, former head of the Inter-City Trust, the affairs of which are undergoing rigid investigation, was arraigned in the superior court here yesterday morning on four indictments, returned at the February sitting of the grand jury.

The indictments in connection with the Inter-City Trust and a Lowell woman are as follows: 1—Accessory before the fact to larceny. It is alleged that, on August 4, 1922, at Lowell, others stole stocks and bonds valued at more than $100,000 from Clementine Crossley of Lowell, and that Montague was an accessory before the fact; 2—Larceny, on September 6, 1922, at Lowell, of stocks and bonds valued at more than $100,000; 3—similar larceny, on August 24 of the same year; 4—Conspiracy to commit larceny. It is alleged that Montague and others conspired to steal stocks and bonds.

District Attorney Arthur K. Reading, after Montague had pleaded not guilty to all four charges, told the court that Montague had agreed to help the government in solving the affairs of the Inter-City Trust. The district attorney said that in view of this fact and inasmuch as Montague is held in Suffolk in substantial bonds, he would recommend that he be held only in Middlesex county. The suggestion was accepted.

GASOLINE-PROPELLED TRAIN ON STEAM R. R.

NORTH ADAMS, May 22.—The first gasoline-propelled train to be operated on a steam railroad was demonstrated today in a large number of railroad men, newspaper correspondents, moving picture camera men, and city and town officials. The train which is to be used on the 27 miles of the Hoosac tunnel and Wilmington railroad started from North Adams and passing through the Hoosac tunnel, to Boston & Maine railroad, reached the Hoosac tunnel and Wilmington railroad for a trip for the entire length of the latter line. At various stations and there was an exchange of greetings between officials of various communities. The train consists of two cars, the first combination passenger and baggage car, containing the engine, similar to a high powered automobile engine. Trials of this type, many believe, will replace steam-propelled trains on smaller railroads.

STEAMER HIT ICEBERG

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 22.—Examination of the White Star cattle steamer Oxonia which ran here after striking an iceberg off Cape Ray last Friday night, showed that she is not seriously damaged. She will make temporary repairs and proceed at the end of the week on her voyage from Montreal for Birkenhead.

MEMBER OF MACMILLAN FOR CAPTIVES' RELEASE REPORT 17 LIVES LOST PARTY SPEAKS HERE

Yesterday's meeting of the Rotary club was one of the largest of the year and in addition to the local members the Lawrence, Nassau, and Madford clubs were represented by guests.

The speaker of the day was Ralph P. Robinson, assistant to Donald Macmillan, the noted Arctic explorer, and briefly of his recent trip to Washington to attend the conference of heads of Boys' clubs of the country.

As soon as the luncheon was finished, President "Doc" Robert E. Davis called the meeting to order and the first business taken up was that of the drive for funds for the Boys' club, as Mr. Robinson, chairman of this committee, was not present.

H. Hutchins Parker took charge and when the returns of the sub-committees were complete it was found that over $400 had been collected during the week.

With this business completed, "Bill" Mitchell, the only life member of the club in singing and he did it with all his well known pen and vigor.

President Davis then appointed a committee to take care of the annual orphan's outing, sponsored by the Rotary club, and named Harry Pitts as chairman.

As Harold F. Howe was chairman of the day, it fell upon him to introduce the speaker, Ralph P. Robinson, an old friend of his.

Mr. Robinson's talk did not hold fast to any set subject and he said the only reason Donald Macmillan himself was not present was that he was just recovering from an operation on his jaw. Preliminary to his main talk, Mr. Robinson told of Macmillan's early explorations, over a period of the past 10 years, and paid particular attention to his last trip to the northland, the expedition to the unknown, uncharted shores of Baffin land. He told of the preparations Macmillan made, the boat and hull, which although smaller than many of the yachts seen in New England harbors, was strong enough to battle huge icebergs and which was the most comfortable ever used in an Arctic expedition. He also told of two Carnegie Institute men who accompanied them on their last expedition, of the success met with in this work.

In regard to their last voyage, he told of the difficulties encountered because Fox, the discoverer of a channel named after him, and not been able to correctly chart it, and how Macmillan overcame this by having rail communication with the Arlington station which broadcasts the time stands every night. Battles with icebergs and narrow escapes were told by Mr. Robinson in a plain matter of fact way and treating the hardships of the explorers as though they were nothing at all out of the ordinary.

The main subject was on the Eskimos met during their winter's stay on the southern side of Baffin land. These, he said, lived the nearest to absolute socialism of any people he had ever met or heard of. They even claim every man's goods as their own, except those of the explorers.

As to their life and living, he described the food they ate and dealt on their marriage relations. As he told it, an Eskimo man, when he wants a wife, goes to the house of a girl and informs her father of his desire. The father orders the girl to be with the man, the only qualification necessary being an ability to sew and to chew leather. This latter is very important, he said, for the leather used in shoes and mittens must be chewed, for days sometimes, to soften it enough to make it comfortable.

If the husband finds the girl chafes at these things, he merely takes her back to her father's house and leaves her. "This," he said, "is the only point on which their morals do not better our own. They are so honest and so trustworthy that they put our own people to shame."

Speaking of this year's expedition which is to start soon, Mr. Robinson said the members would have many things to remember to be done by the club, and he said that some of the members of the club for some of their necessities, and a member of the Lowell Rotary club has donated 100 cigars for the members of the expedition to smoke while up under the Arctic clouds.

From this trip," he said, "we are going to take along a powerful radio receiving and sending set so that we can receive broadcasts from home and also be able to read our stories concerning our doings while in a land where white men have never before been."

We have a covered boat with several pairs of hands on our material and we plan to send about 200 words a week for the benefit of any radio fan who cares to listen in."

For five minutes after the completion of his talk Mr. Robinson answered questions concerning the trip and in answer to one regarding the health of the Eskimos, he said that they were never sick, and never bathed from the time they were born until they died.

U. S. Will Participate in

Direct Negotiations Only as

WASHINGTON, May 22.—President Harding, in consultation with the cabinet today, decided that the American government must be guided by advice from Minister Schuman at Peking, and consular officers in China, in its efforts to secure the release of United States and other foreign citizens held captive by bandits.

Only as a last resort, it was said, by a White House spokesman, will the United States government participate in direct negotiations with the bandits for the release of any action which would relieve the Peking government of responsibility in the case.

WASHINGTON PLEASSED AT SELECTION OF BALDWIN

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Selection of Stanley Baldwin to succeed Bonar Law as premier of England, drew the comment in White House circles today that Mr. Baldwin "made the most favorable impression" in Washington at the time of his visit here to discuss the refunding of the British war debt.

It was said that high American officials felt the "most cordial enthusiasm" toward Mr. Baldwin's performance of his mission in this country, and it was evident that Washington administration officials generally felt that the good relations between the countries will be fostered under the new premier.

Official Announcement

LONDON, May 22.—An official announcement about Mr. Baldwin's selection as premier of England, was made this afternoon by the king, who offered him the post of premier and first lord of the treasury, vacated by Mr. Bonar Law and that Mr. Baldwin accepted the offer.

436 SHIP SURVIVORS HIKE 14 MILES

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 22.—The 436 passengers and crew of the Canadian Pacific liner Maracaibo, rescued yesterday when the steamer sank near Cape Pine, after striking a rock, started on a long hike today in the little fishing village of St. Shotts, where the ship's boats landed them, shelter was found for the night, but there was no adequate means of conveyance in Trepassy, the nearest railroad town. So the shipwrecked company this morning shouldered what little baggage they had and started a walk of 14 miles. It is expected the steamer Empress of Britain which was 20 miles east of Cape Pine this morning will call at Trepassy and take the passengers aboard. If this is found impracticable, they will come to St. John's by rail.

CLINTON, Okla., May 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Damage to crops amounting to millions of dollars is believed to have resulted from cloudbursts in western Oklahoma last night. ## SIGNS OF LIFE IN STREET DEPARTMENT CAMP

Street work in the city is travelling along in a big league stride and if present activities continue a record of accomplishment similar to that of a year ago will be chalked up in 1923.

Today the street department began to lay granite blocks in Lakeview avenue and within two weeks another splendid link of paving will be completed on that thoroughfare between Coburn and West streets.

Patching and resurfacing gangs today began work on Langer and Hastings streets and on Chumney avenue, with Wedge street next on the program. Riverside street is being tar coated and a similar surface is being put on Middlesex street between Branch street and Maud avenue.

The board of public service will skip its meeting on Thursday of this week to enable the members, with the city engineer, to attend the meeting of the Massachusetts Highway association at Worcester.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 5

As the flying horse went over the land of dominoes, Jack wondered about the little houses that stood in rows along the streets. "How can people live in those houses when there aren't any windows?" he asked Flightry. And, just then, every house opened on top and heads came out.

Jack immediately heard a great roar of laughter and saw that every little head was shaking back and forth. "Don't mind them," said Flightry, "they are the Happy Ha Hs, and they laugh so much that they disturb the dominoes of Domino town. That's why they live in houses without windows."

Then the laughing suddenly stopped and each little Happy Ha Ha's head disappeared and once more the Ha Ha's homes seemed just like tightly closed boxes. "They won't come out again to laugh for a long time," said Flightry, "so we might as well travel over and see the Palace of the Clouds." (Continued.)

IN LONDON

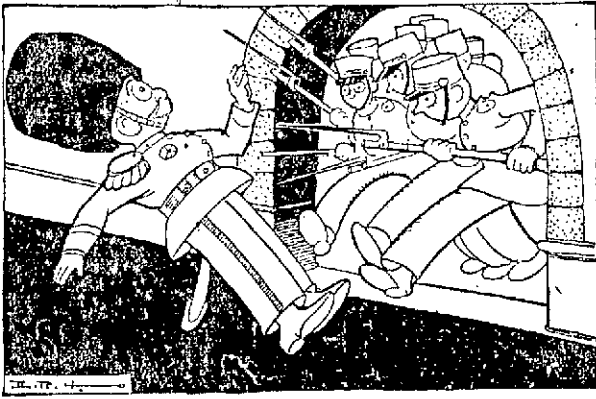

Kingsway is a thoroughfare

And London people praise it as The town's Fifth Avenue—

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

THE TIGER GENERAL CAPTURED

"YOU ARE OUR PRISONER, GENERAL HOBLEDEHOY," THEY CRIED.

Private Buttons was very happy. He had always wanted to be a general and now he was one. He was a general in the wooden army in King-Hang Land because the Twins had made a mistake when he was getting mended in the hospital after a battle. They had painted General Gold Brail's star on Private Buttons's shoulder, and hadn't put anything on the general's shoulder. The wooden army never knew the difference because they both looked alike, and saluted Private Buttons and stood around and waited for orders as though he had been a general all his life. "Now then," smiled Private Buttons to himself. "We've been dilly-dallying long enough and I for one am tired of fighting. I'm going to do something big." So he called the officers around him and told them to get ready for battle. "I want the big guns here," he said, pointing to a map. "And the cavalry here." And he pointed to another place. "And trenches dug here and there and yonder; be ready to go over the top at six o'clock." The officers all said, "Yes, sir! Very good, sir!" and went away to get ready. At that very minute General Hobbledehoi of the tin army was pinning medals on Nancy and Nick, and boasting that he would win the war. Suddenly bang, bang, bang! Bangs, bangs, bang! A hundred guns outside. Everybody jumped. The door was flung open and in rushed a dozen wooden soldiers. "You are our prisoner, General Hobbledehoi," they cried. "Hurray! the war is over and we have won, Hurray for Nancy and Nick!" Isn't that the way, my dears? When we are boasting the most is usually the very time we should be most careful. PERRY D. THOMPSON

Former Lowell Mayor Will Address N. H. Retail Jewelers' Association

Hon. Perry D. Thompson, former mayor of Lowell, has accepted the invitation of President Arthur De Mont-igny, of the New Hampshire Retail Jewelers' association to address that

HON. PERRY D. THOMPSON organization at its annual meeting at Concord, N. H. Mr. Thompson will speak at the banquet to be held in the Eagle hotel tomorrow night.

President Edward H. Hufnagel of the American Retail Jewelers' association will be the other banquet speaker. The affair is the annual get-together and business meeting of the leading jewelers of the Granite state. Many Massachusetts jewelers will also travel over the road to attend the banquet. Among the Lowell jewelers who will attend are: Frank Har-card, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. J. Gator, who will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Boston.

CASES IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

The case of Thomas Bickum of Lawrence vs. the city of Lowell, which went to trial at the jury trial session of the superior court Monday afternoon, was brought to a close yesterday afternoon. Judge McKim, who heard the evidence, reserved his decision to a later date. In this case the plaintiff seeks to recover damages to his automobile, which he claims was caused through the defective condition of First street.

Burtin Zlanskiak has petitioned the court to rescind his divorce nisi obtained by his wife, Maria, on May 22, 1922, from becoming absolute and a hearing in the matter was held yesterday afternoon at the jury trial session of the superior court. The petitioner admitted that he went to Poland from this country before the war and took along with him all of his wife's savings and that during his stay in Poland he never sent her any money and that she was forced to support herself and child. The petitioner did not receive proper notice of divorce proceedings. The judge reserved his decision.

FORMULATE PLANS FOR LAWN PARTY

The members of St. Columba's church held an enthusiastic meeting last night in the parish hall to formulate plans for the coming lawn party to be held on the church grounds June 28, 29 and 30. Chairman Warren P. Rindorff presided. Several committees were appointed to conduct the varied forms of entertainments for the affair and judging from the reports of progress of the heads of the different committees, the plans are for a most successful event.

The energetic pastor, Rev. John J.
Powers, announced that it was very gratifying to him to see the interest in the work manifested by those present and he has been forwarded to a most successful event, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the church building fund. The next meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

DISTRICT COURT

On a finding of guilty to the non-support of his wife and minor child, Joseph P. Plette was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction and ordered to contribute $5 weekly to the family's support, when the case was tried in the district court this morning. Plette's appearance in the court-room marked the first time his wife has seen him in a year, she told Judge Enright.

Thomas J. Keelher, given a suspended sentence for drunkenness a few days ago, was in again this morning

MILITARY GUARD

A largely attended meeting of members of Union Samuel de Champlain
P.A.F., was held last evening in C.M.A.
C. hall with President F. N. River in the chair. New members were initiated, applications for membership were received and routine business was transacted. Financial Secretary Leda announced his resignation and Fredrick
Giroux was elected to succeed him.

A feature of the meeting was the appointment of a committee to organize a semi-military guard among the members of the organization. This matter was discussed at various meetings of the society, but no definite action was taken until last night. The committee appointed is as follows:

President: Fredrick G. Humphries,
Vice-President: Edmund Lamberg,
Thomas Bochette, Jr., Francis Four-

BRIEF CASE FOR
REV. K. P. MEISTER

As an appreciation for his untiring efforts for labor during his stay in this city and also for the interest he manifested in the textile strike, the Lowell Textile Council has elected him last night, Rev. Karl P. Meister, former pastor of the Central M. E.
church and now located in Cambridge, Mass., will be presented a handsome letter brief case by the Trades &
Labor council of Lowell.

The gift has been purchased by the council and today John Hanley, president of the Lowell Textile council was delegated to pack it up properly and ship it to the clergyman. It was stated at Trades & Labor hall this morning that during his stay in this city, Rev. Meister had shown a deep interest in the textile strike and during the strike he was one of the staunchest supporters of the strikers.

DISCUSS FIRE STATION
FOR THE OAKLANDS

Francis A. Connor, inspector of public buildings, held a conference with city solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds at 1:30 this afternoon concerning matters preluding to the erection of a fire station in the Oakland district. It was stated that the city was voted to borrow money to pay for the seizure of property in Oakland square for the erection of a fire station in that district. Following numerous complaints relative to the lack of protection, the city council has passed an order to that effect and the land owner has agreed to the plan. The meeting between Mr. Connor and Mr. Reynolds is for the purpose of settling certain legal aspects of the case and is also relative to the hiring of an architect to make drawings of the proposed building.

Dr. John W. Grady
Dies at Hospital

Continued

Dr. John W. Grady, who had been advised him to go to Los Angeles, Cal., as she thought a change might prove beneficial. He continued in falling health until the tragedy of last Sunday morning.

Dr. Grady had two brothers, Dr. Joseph
W. Grady of Boston and William S. Grady of Los Angeles, Cal. George A. of Lawrence, and James W. of this city and one sister, Mrs. Daniel Crowley, also of this city.

The body was removed to the funeral chapel of Undertakers Charles H.
Melloy's Sons.

No Charges Against Mrs. Grady

Through Supt. Atkinson. It was learned this morning that the police will not prefer charges against Mrs.
Clara Grady, the 32-year-old sister-in-law of Dr. Grady, in connection with the death of her husband.

Dr. Grady's death was a tragedy for the family. He had been suffering for a long time and last Sunday seemed more depressed than usual, she said.
Nothing in the place where he was standing, she tried to release his grip from the sharp instrument and in so doing, was severely lashed on the hands and wrists. Her 12-year-old son, Harold, was also cut when he endeavored to separate his father and mother.
Both the son and Mrs. Grady are resting comfortably at St. John's and it is practically certain that they will recover.

SOMETHING WENT WRONG WITH THE HANDLE WHILE HENRY APPELATE WAS WINDING UP HIS PLEASURE CAR
EARLY TO DAY—

WOMAN FINED $100 FOR KEEPING LIQUOR

Sophie Marzwick paid $100 in the district court this morning when she pleaded guilty to illegally keeping intoxicating liquor. She was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officers Moloney, Cossette, Linton and McElroy at her home, 36 Elm street. When the officers appeared on the scene, the woman thrust her head out a door and noticing the officers, quickly looked the passage-way. A minute or so afterwards, a third was heard on the ground and looking out a second story window the officers saw a one gallon jug resting on the ground. The woman had thrown the jug containing the liquor, on the ground. It landed on the stooper and, bounded into the air and she called back to earth without breaking. The impact caused the cork stopper to burst itself so securely in the jug that it became necessary to cut it out with a sharp instrument. But the officers got the evidence when the jug failed to break. Verily, hard stuff, that.

CITY PLANNER MAKES SURVEY OF LOWELL

Arthur A. Shurtliff, a noted city planner, in company with the members of the Lowell planning board, City Engineer Stephen L. Kearney, and Mayor John J. Donovan, started on a tour of the city at 1:15 this afternoon.

Mr. Shurtliff volunteered to make a preliminary survey of the city free of charge and to suggest how certain improvements in conditions here could be made, and it is for this purpose that this afternoon's trip is being made.

At a recent meeting of the planning board, it was voted to communicate with several of the well-known city planners relative to the cost of a survey of the city, and in reply to their letter, Mr. Shurtliff volunteered to make a preliminary survey free of charge. Mr. Shurtliff belongs in Cambridge, and among the cities that he has planned are Newton, Norwood and Fall River.

The members of the planning board are Patrick J. Reynolds, chairman; Raymond M. Humphrey, secretary; Dr. Geo.
O. Lavallee, Benjamin S. Ponzner and Michael A. Lee.

TROUBLE OVER REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION

The case of Ella Kinman, defendant, vs. P. Vincent Kelley, plaintiff, in a suit to recover a commission for an alleged real estate transaction, was opened in the jury waived session of the superior court this morning. The plaintiff, a real estate dealer in this city, alleges that the defendant placed a residence in his hands to be sold for $2500 and that he agreed to pay him a commission of 2 1/2 per cent on the sale. Kelley admits that he placed the property in the hands of the defendant, who had agreed to sell a mortgage on the property, neglected to fulfill her part of the contract, and that she took the property from his hands.

The defendant is her declaration denies such and very allegation of the plaintiff. William A. Hogan appeared for the defendant and Raymond J. Lavallee for the plaintiff.

other matters of importance to the veterans. The meeting will adjourn at 1 o'clock, for luncheon.

Short remarks by Capt. Joseph Mol-ley, commander of the American Le-attractive array of entertainment will program. The performers are Thomas Kelly, Michael Brennan, Miss Sadie

Sheehan and Doris McCormack.

The attractive program arranged for by the veterans to get sufficient money to finance the convention, made its appearance among the merchants today. The blue covered booklet, with Mayor Donovan's proclamation, and the symbol of Liberty on the face covers, presented a very attractive appearance. The committee in charge of promoting the convention headed by Edward H. Sullivan, state treasurer, assisted by Charles J. Collins, James McCormack, Harry F. O'Sullivan and William Quinn, is receiving the congratulations of business men, success in procuring the convention tend, in addition of the large group of veterans seeking information in regard to compensation and other claims.

Veterans and delegates who remain over Sunday will attend the G.A.R. and Spanish War Veterans service to be held in the afternoon at the First Congregational church.

CITY SOLICITOR AT BOSTON MEETING

City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds attended a meeting of the Mayors club in Boston yesterday, substituting for Mayor Donovan, who was unable to attend. This meeting was called for the purpose of considering certain phases of the national bank situation, and after a long session the members present voted unanimously in favor of the "compromise bill" which is now before the house.

This matter is of considerable interest to both the state and the cities in the state as under a recent ruling, the bill which authorized the collection of taxes from national banks, beginning in 1917, has been found illegal and some steps are now being taken by the cities, then they will be called upon to refund the money already collected from the banks. Under this compromise bill it is believed that the matter can be settled to the satisfaction of both parties.

Molders Still on Strike

Continued

were addressed by Business Agent Murphy. Plans were outlined for the picketing of both plants and the men were urged to do only peaceful picketing and keep within the law.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Murphy issued the following statement in behalf of the union relative to statements made yesterday by officials of both the Kilson and Saco-Lowell foundries to the effect that they were unaware of the grievances of the molders or the causes of the strike.

"Under date of April 23, the molders' demands upon the Saco-Lowell shops were sent to the officers of both plants in Lowell by registered mail. The secretary of the local molders' union has in his possession the return post cards signed by an agent of the company. The demands made upon the company were: first, for a minimum wage of $7.25 per day; second, for an eight-hour day;
third, the day rate be paid to hand molders; fourth, for piece work workers on molding machines, a 20 per cent advance. A reply was requested on or before April 30. This demand was ignored by the company.

"This grievance submitted to the union by the molders employed by the Saco-Lowell shops shows that there has been no recognition day rate of wages paid in other shops.
That molders are required to start

Former Attorney General
Allen Gives Interesting Talk at Eliot Church

J. Weston Allen, former attorney-general of Massachusetts, gave an extremely interesting and timely discourse on the menace of lawlessness that is now confronting the officials

J. WESTON ALLEN

of law and order all over the country, at the regular meeting of the men's club of the Eliot Union church last night at the church.

Mr. Allen became very well known through his exposure of several scandals and his action in several large cases and a large attendance of the members of the club and their guests attended to hear him. He was introduced by Lester H. Cushing, president of the club, who told of a previous occasion when Mr. Allen had been forced to cancel his engagement to speak here and noted his willingness to appear at the meeting last night. Mr. Allen was greeted with hearty applause at the close of the introduction.

Prior to his address, supper was served in the church vestry under the direction of Louis A. Olney, aided by Samuel H. Slack and Lehard Balch, and a social hour was enjoyed after the supper. The meeting was called to order at 5 o'clock by President Cushing, who immediately introduced the speaker.

In his talk, Mr. Allen termed the repeating story the high-powered machine, and "booth" as the reality of crime today and his discussion ranked from the situation of the country to matters that came under his jurisdiction as attorney-general.

He told of the expressed policy of President George as to prohibition in Great Britain, how they were waiting and watching the result of the Volstead act in America and said that the steps England takes toward prohibition will be based on the effect of prohibition in America and that when the time comes, the church people of Great Britain will decide whether that country is to have prohibition or not.

Speaking of the effect of organized crime against crime, he praised the churches for the work they were doing and urged them to carry on, as they can, by such effort, formulate a public opinion that will compel a higher standard in all walks of life.
He also highly praised the Boy Scouts for the work they are doing, saying that it is such forces as this organization that will make the future generation a credit to the present.

"The menace of lawlessness," he continued, "is not realized in this country by any considerable number of the very people who are so socially concerned. We have become so complacent under the inevitable position that we have been occupying that we have even lost the vision of danger." He quoted from an article in a leading English paper wherein it was said that "the American democracy will succeed as long as the people are concerned with a young nation when the empires of the world become a mass of Manchester and Birmingham, then and not until then will come the test of real government."

"Now," he continued, "this time, as predicted by this English paper, has come and we have our Manchester and our Birmingham located at Lowell, Lawrence, New Bedford, and many other centres not only throughout New England but throughout the whole country. In these great industrial centres we have not people of one nationality and creed, as in England at the time the above was spoken, but we have a polyglot population and it is a most difficult task to live in the present and not look forward to the future."

Shifting over to the menace of lawlessness, he told of conditions as they are now in this country, how some of the people believe the wave of crime to be only temporary and how others blame it on this "boasted act," but he said that the latter, as crime had been increasing steadily for many years before prohibition went into effect, and, in closing, he said that the people of this country will soon tire of the reign of the bootlegger.

CATHOLIC ORDER OF FORESTERS MEETS

WORCESTER, May 23.—The 44th annual convention of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters was opened here today with 1100 delegates at the session in Mechanics' hall. The day was opened with a solemn high mass of requiem for deceased members of the order in St. Paul's church, offered by Rev. Dr. J. H. O'Neil, state chaplain, assisted by Rev. Joseph M. Ryan of Worcester, and Rev. Walter L. Leahy of Worcester an deacon and sub-deacon, respectively. The delegates were welcomed to Worcester by Mayor Peter F. Sullivan, after which the annual reports of the officers were read. They showed that the order now numbered 44,000 in Massachusetts, an increase of 3200 during the past year. John J. Collins of Springfield, is to be elected high chief ranger to succeed James E. O'Leary of Worcester.

summer camps open to all members of the association. This, with free health centers for its members, is the task the association has set for itself. The organization has a membership of 275,000, according to Miss West. It started out 80 years ago in debt of $150 for office furnishings. Now the members boast beautiful offices at Port Huron, Mich., and a reserve fund of $19,000,000. Benefits totaling $24,000,000 have been paid out.

MOVEMENT IN SOUTH TO WITHHOLD COTTON

ORANGEBURG, S. C., May 23.—The American Cotton association is planning a movement throughout the south to withhold cotton until it reaches a price level where cotton farmers can make a "legitimate profit." J. S. Wannamaker, president of the association, declared in an address here last night. The plan outlined by Mr. Wannamaker would provide for the buying of cotton by individuals, clubs and corporations, the cotton to be stored in warehouses and then the certificates and ten percent placed in banks with the condition that the cotton was not to be sold within a period of one, two or three years, unless cotton prices fell to 50 cents per pound and the time agreed upon.

Find Machine Guns on Honduran Frontier

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 23.—Large quantities of ammunition, with machine guns, and hand grenades were found hidden near the Honduran frontier by Nicaraguan military authorities. The government believes the supplies were left by the revolutionists of August, 1921, in their attempt to overthrow General Lopez Gutierrez, president of Honduras. The Nicaraguan government is determined that revolutions cannot be fomented in this country against other Central American republics in compliance with the treaty negotiated at Washington last December.

Bryan to Renew Attacks on Darwinism

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23.—William Jennings Bryan, snarling under the reverse suffered yesterday when a resolution he had prepared which would prohibit teaching of evolution in Presbyterian schools, was defeated by a vote of approximately 2 to 1, planned to renew his attacks on Darwinism at today's session of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America. The defeat of Mr. Bryan's resolution came at the end of a stormy session in which fundamentalists and liberals at times indulged in personalities. The debate is expected to break out afresh today when the committee on bills and resolutions brings in its report on the case of Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, liberalist leader.

ATTO H. KAHN SPEAKS

ays There Is No Such Thing as an "International Banker" in America

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 23.—There is no such thing as an "international banker" in America, as the meaning of the term is generally understood, to H. Kahn, of Kahn, Loeb & Co., cleared today in an address before the Rochester chamber of commerce. "He exists in the imagination of the people all too numerous," he said, "but does not exist in the flesh."

The banker maintains, and can sustain international contact, and conduct international business only to an extent that American industry, commerce and agriculture are international.

"The American banker's market is a home market. His success is conditional upon the capacity and willingness of the American investor to absorb the securities which he offers. The vast bulk of the business of a American banks—with or without international affiliations—originates at ends in this country."

"That part of his functions which consists in financing loans of foreign governments or industries has hitherto been (with sporadic exceptions) of a relatively inconsiderable proportion compared to the vastness of the volume of his transactions in financing American industry, commerce and agriculture. In saying this I do not mean to imply that there is anything that calls for apology in the financing of American loans in the financing of American funds to Europe, provided that such loans are considered sound as to security and are made for legitimate constructive purposes. Indeed, such loans ought to, and I believe will, be made in increasing measure. That transactions of this international nature which under any circumstances can amount to but a fraction of the American business of the American banker could unduly influence his attitude towards Europe or affect his judgment and sentiments as an American citizen is a supposition as unfair as it is absurd. Even from the narrowest and crudest point of view of sheer selfishness consideration such a supposition would be untenable."

"BILLY" MAINS, OLD TIME

BALL PLAYER, DEAD

BRIDGEPORT, Me., May 23.—William E. Mains, renowned in former years as a baseball player and for years a manager of baseball bats, died at his home in Sandy Creek, early this morning of heart failure.

"Billy" Mains, as he was known to thousands of fans, was a prominent figure in the baseball world from 1887 to 1895. In the former year he went to Portland a raw country lad and there attracted much attention with his pitching. After following over he played at Portland, Ore., in the Pacific Coast league, in 1899 and 1900 he pitched for the Cincinnati team, was transferred in 1901 to the Boston Nationals but returned to the Western league before the season opened, spending much time in Chicago, where he played but little. In the following four years, 1902-05, he played with Portland, Lewiston and Bangor, retiring in 1907, because of heart weakness which developed into the disease which caused his death.

ARMY FLIER MAKES

LETTERS IN THE SKY

The name of a popular brand of cigarettes was written 10,000 feet above Lowell early this afternoon in letters of smoke by Capt. Paul Cox, ex-British army flier, using a S E 5 plane of English construction.

The plane came up-river from Lawrence shortly after 4 o'clock and the airman did his stunt about over Belvidere. That he was holding an altitude of at least 10,000 feet was attested by the fact that the moment he finished his work he disappeared from view.

The plane came and went so rapidly that only a comparatively few people watched the stunt, which consisted mostly of sweeping spirals that spelled out the name of the cigarettes so clearly as to be easily distinguishable from the ground. The smoke letters retained their shape for several minutes before melting into a feathery mass that closely resembled cloud formations near it.

LADIES WILL HAVE

CHARGE OF POPPY SALE

President Harding, in a letter to Col. T. L. Houston, national commander of the veterans, heartily endorsing the wearing of the poppy, as a testimonial to the veterans, Poppy day will be celebrated throughout Massachusetts. Adj. Wm. C. Burke hopes that the people of Lowell will make as far as possible a silver offering, on account of the expensive cost of the flowers, which are made in France.

but he refused to make public the price paid.

$1,250,000 Involved

BOSTON, May 23.—The sale of the Boston American League Baseball club to Columbus, Ohio, interests involved at least $1,250,000, it was believed here. This is the price asked by President Frazer in recent negotiations with local interests. Previous bids are said to have topped $1,000,000. The sale of that figure, transfer of the club itself and of Fenway park, a majority in both of which Frazer owns, is completed in the deal.

The sale marks the passing from baseball in this city of the man who has sold more major league players probably than any owner of a major league team. Frazer succeeded J. J. Lannin, who was owner of the world's champion teams of 1912, 1915 and 1916, after the Red Sox had won the world's championship in the latter year. The stars of that team were sold or traded singly or in groups until today none is left. Another world championship was won in 1918 under Frazer's ownership, but the disposition of players thereafter resulted in the team falling to the bottom places in the standing and last year the franchise itself was sold. There was no information regarding the sale available here today.

Ban Johnson Talks

CHICAGO, May 23.—"It is my understanding that the sale will be made," said Ban Johnson today in commenting on the reported sale of the Boston American Baseball club.

Lowell People in Train Wreck

Continued

sitting in the first seat of one of the cars and after the crash, found himself on the floor, near the door, with a brakeman astride his neck.

"It was one of the most miraculous escapes from serious consequences I ever heard of," said Mr. Robertson this noon. Although shaken up somewhat he was unhurt.

What Might Have Been

At the Winchester Highlands station and just beyond, the railroad is constructed on an eight foot hill, but fortunately when the cars left the tracks and pitched sideways they came in the opposite direction. If they had pitched to the right, nothing could have stopped the cars except the embankment and loss of life would have been unavoidable. The escape from serious injury by so many passengers was miraculous, but is accounted for in a measure by the fact that none of the cars was thrown completely over, although tilted to a dangerous angle. Windows in all cars were broken and seats were torn from their fastenings, vestibules were demolished and much of the frame work of the combination baggage and smoking cars was smashed. The other seven cars were of steel and largely held together despite the shock.

The main line tracks were completely blocked, but the railroad sent all Southern division trains over the Waburn loop, without an appreciable delay in service. Wrecking crews were quickly on the scene, but it took several hours before the derailed coaches are righted and swung off the main tracks.

Passengers on the train who were not injured and wished to continue their trip walked about a mile down the tracks to Winchester where a special train made up for Boston. The train left Concord, N. H., at 5:15 a.m. eastern standard time, left Lowell at 7:55 o'clock, and was due in Boston at 8:37 o'clock.

Of the 16 persons injured, eight were from Lowell and from Wilmington, Mass. and one from Nashua, N. H. As the train is traveling at a rate of about 40 miles an hour when it passes Winchester Highlands,

Lowell Boys' Experiences

Several Lowell boys, all students, who were in the smoking car at the time of the accident, told their version of the wreck to a Sun reporter and said it all happened so quickly that until the lurching and dragging stopped, no one realized what had occurred.

"We were talking and laughing," said one of the boys, "when suddenly the car began to lurch and then tipped part way over, I should say about 45 degrees. The engine had pulled the smoking car away from the rest of the train and when the engine tipped the front wheels of the smoking car were on a high bank. The train was going about 30 miles an hour when the accident occurred."

"There was no confusion at all and even the women seemed very cool and collected. Some of the occupants of the smoking car got scratched up a little bit, but no one was seriously injured. After we got out of the car and looked around we all agreed it was a miracle that there were no fatalities.

I presume that the smoking car breaking away from the rest of the train was a good thing."

Among the Boston college high school students on the train from Lowell were Francis Haakon, Patrick Wyman, Fred Leary, Joseph Huckleby, Daniel Whelan, John Craven, Gilbert Hunt.

Francis Ward, Paul Foley, Edward Murphy, Joseph Sweeney, Sylvester O'Toole, John Brosnan, Philip Mullane, John Gallagher and Victor Rochette. There also was a large quota of Boston University boys and girls as well as many students at Boston business colleges.

Ask Your Banker

If you have $1000 or so to invest in transportation, and if you want to make your $1000 go as far as possible, it will pay you to consider this before buying a used car:

For less than $1000 you can buy a new Dodge Brothers Touring Car. And when you do that you eliminate the element of doubt. You know that in a year from now it will still be practically a new car, either to command a high price on the used car market, or to continue for many years to give you comfortable, dependable transportation.

Young Pilots Roam Sky In Home-Made Plane

By HUBERT BAUGHN

DECATUR, Ga., May 22.—Out of a pile of junk they bought at auction for $35, four high school boys have built an airplane that is taking them on almost daily flights to nearby cities.

Recently they flew to Chattanooga, Tenn., making the round trip of 280 miles in 4 hours and 20 minutes.

They have made successful trips to Augusta, Birmingham, Athens, Columbus, Macon and Savannah.

A trip to the west coast during their summer vacation now is being planned.

The boys and their home-made air diver are the sensation of Decatur, and huge crowds assemble daily to watch them take off.

The government in January conducted a public sale of old airplane parts at the Americus (Ga.) air station, and then they got busy. In two months they had built the plane. Eugene Brown, R. J. Freeman, George and Donald Perrine, all 17, obtained a leave of absence from high school and attended the sale.

Advised By Flyer

Atlanta aviators advised the boys and then they got busy. In two months they had built the plane. Eugene Brown, R. J. Freeman, George and Donald Perrine, all 17, obtained a leave of absence from high school and attended the sale.

"We worked every afternoon and every night for 60 days," says Eugene Brown, the official pilot, "and we did all the work by ourselves."

Van Buren, ex-army flyer and president of the Atlanta Air board, taught the boys how to fly the machine, and now they are just as much at ease in the air as at the ball park.

As far as is known here, the four are the world's youngest aviators.

The city council again last night referred action on the $10,000 order provide additional regular patrolmen the police department and will meet at an adjourned meeting on Friday night to attempt to settle its fate.

Order already bears the mayor's stamp of disapproval and the question comes on the passage over the veto.

Evidently not familiar with the fact that Massachusetts is now operating on daylight saving time, it was 9 o'clock before the council slowly went into session.

Archie Green, transacting considerable business of routine nature, the council voted to send a delegation of three members to represent Lowell at the deeper waterways conference in Washington on June 15 and 16.

Pres. Gallagher named Councillors McFadden, Stearns and Genest to this committee. The city solicitor also will be included and the mayor will be asked to make the trip.

It was just 9 o'clock when Pres. Gallagher called the meeting to order. Councillor Chadwick was absent.

Telephone Genest was granted a petition to erect a garage in a residential district.

The council accepted an invitation from the Broadway club to attend exercises at the unveiling of the memorial monument erected to the honor of American heroes in the World war on Sunday afternoon, June 3.

The council received a bond from the Saco-Lowell shops, indemnifying the city for all damages which may be sustained by the city in connection with the closing of Kilson and Worth streets.

on the matter and take the proper steps to see that this is done.

Councillor Cosgrove felt the attention of the police chief should be called to the traffic danger existing at the junction of Appleton and Thordike streets.

Councillor Lambert's motion carried. Councillor Stearns moved that Mayor John J. Donovan be asked to accompany the special council committee to Washington for the deeper waterways hearing.

Councillor Lambert moved the appointment of a committee of three from the council to confer with a representative of the Lowell Gas Co. Inspector of public buildings and the city gas inspector to devise ways and means of expediting the installation of all new and open gas pipe work.

Adjourned at 10.30 o'clock.

Man Accused of Killing Policeman Escapes Under Shower of Bullets

MADISON, Wis., May 23.—Captured in a restaurant late last night, James L. Whitfield, sought as the slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin at Cleveland, Ohio, broke away from two policemen and escaped, under a shower of bullets.

Whitfield was alive with searching bands until early today and hundreds of students of the University of Wisconsin aided in the chase by automobile and on foot. A general alarm was broadcasted throughout the state.

With Whitfield was a woman who gave her name as Marie Price, 23 years old. She said that she had traveled with him since his flight from Cleveland. She was locked up at the police station for questioning.

calls that the Turks are known to have mined it.

The Maritza explosion, says the writer, is merely an incident. He adds: "It coincides, curiously enough, with the landing of troops in flagrant violation of the Mudania convention at or near the Isthmus of Bulgar, which joins the Gallipoli peninsula to the mainland. This is regarded with far greater seriousness in British circles than what has been happening near Adrianople, for it aims at the cutting of overland communication between the allied garrisons at the Dardanelles and Constantinople. This already awkward position would be aggravated if the Maritza river bridges, made it impossible for the Greek army to re-enter Thrace without grave delay in the event of the allies being suddenly attacked at Constantinople."

Discussion of Indemnity
LAUSANNE, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.) Premier Voulzou and Foreign Minister Alexandris of Greece have asked General Pello, president of the financial commission to arrange a formal discussion of the indemnity question by the Near East Peace conference as soon as possible. The meeting probably will be held Friday. The Greek delegation today officially denied a report that Greece had offered the city of Karagatch, opposite Adrianople, to Turkey if the latter would renounce her indemnity claims. The Greeks also characterized as ridiculous rumors that Greece was ready to hand over part of her merchant fleet for the same purpose.

AID SURVIVORS OF SHIPWRECK

Relief Organizations Take Charge of 436 Survivors at St. John's N. F.

Were Rescued When Canadian Pacific Liner Marvale Went Down

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 23.—Relief organizations of this city early today were prepared to take charge of the 436 passengers and crew of the Canadian Pacific liner Marvale, rescued when the vessel went down after striking a reef off Newfoundland Monday, when they arrived in this city from the little town of Trepassay.

All of the passengers and a few of the crew were aboard a train bound for St. John's. The remainder of the crew, numbering 150, were aboard the government steamer Euse, which is making for this port.

The shipwrecked company, including numerous women and about 20 infants, suffered severely from cold, loss of sleep, and anxiety of food. All lost their personal possessions, including the doctored ship with nothing but the clothing they were wearing. It was planned to keep the Marvale passengers here until the Canadian Pacific liner Melita arrived from Montreal to take them on board.

All joined in praise for Captain Lewis, declaring that his seamanship, coolness and judgment were responsible for the salvation of passengers and crew. When the Marvale crashed into the reef, a great hole was made in the bottom, Captain Lewis, they said, coolly headed the sinking vessel for the beach, the while he lowered his human freight into small boats. The big ship went down in seven fathoms, a mile from the beach, and the small boats proceeded to the little fishing village of St. John's where temporary though really relief was accorded the survivors.

cated its contents to the Associated Press. Major Pinger stated that late Sunday afternoon there was a commotion in the bandits' mountain stronghold and he was notified he was to be taken to the summit of the mountain, which is almost inaccessible.

Jeff Solomon and Major Robert Allen, the latter also an American army officer, accompanied him. "We climbed a thousand feet above summit," wrote Major Pinger, "the last 500 being almost sheer. We went up slowly and laboriously, ascending by means of hand and footholds cut in the rock."

"When we finally reached our all-time destination, we were assigned to quarters hopelessly foul, already occupied by Chinese who probably were old prisoners held for ransom. We unanimously disapproved of our lodging and looking around, found a dukout which was fairly clean, though small. We cleaned it out the best we could, all of us voicing the hope that it would be our last captive home."

"We are away up in the air, as high as Mount Tamalpais at San Francisco, with a beautiful country spread out around us. The view is like an artist's dream. But it serves to emphasize our exalted surroundings here. While down below, everything seemed hushed with a Sabbath peace and calm, our immediate surroundings suggested only the wickedness of man to man."

Major Pinger stated he believed the action of the bandits in choosing three Americans to move to the Pankauk summit was for the purpose of obtaining official American notice and thus speeding up the negotiations between the Chinese government and the brigands for the release of the captives. He added that the bandits do not trust the Chinese government and would undoubtedly welcome foreign intervention.

Captives Still Alive

SHANGHAI, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.) Relief workers at Tsoochang, the nearest point to the stronghold of the Szechow train bandits, today reported the arrival of messengers from the brigands' mountain retreat with the information that the outlaws had not carried out their death threat against the foreign captives.

"The prisoners, it was stated, are in good health, except C. D. Musso, the Italian lawyer of Shanghai, who has been ill for a number of days."

No News For 48 Hours

TERING, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.) At the foreign legations today it was said that for 48 hours, no information had come from Linboku, regarding the Shantung bandits and their foreign captives.

There have been no replies to the last two notes which the diplomatic corps served on the foreign office. Both notes insisted emphatically on the release of the captives and the last communication expressed astonishment at the Chinese government's failure to accomplish anything.

Government sources indicate that among Chinese officials opinion is divided on the course to pursue in view of the legation's insistence that no force be employed in rescuing captives lest they be harmed in retaliation.

Foreign and Chinese opinion generally discounts the government's efforts to obtain the captives peacefully. It is pointed out in the last analysis the decision rests on Marshal Tsoo Kun, head of the Ching military party.

Messengers to Peking have raised the question of the status of Major Robert Allen, the Frenchman who was released by the bandits with an ultimatum to the government. The captives, actuated by fears for their own safety, are said to be demanding his return to the outlaws' stronghold, contending that he was only paroled. Robert's statement and the understanding of the French legation is that he was released because the bandits had no intention of doing him harm. Members of the garrison say he has no intention of turning from the bandits that he were perished back.

14 LIVES LOST, 1000 HOMELESS

Three Blocks of Buildings Destroyed by Fire at Mexicali, Lower California

Blaze Started in Moving Picture Theatre—Loss May Reach $5,000,000

MEXICALI, Lower California, May 23.—Fourteen persons are known to have been killed and more than three blocks of buildings were destroyed by a fire which started late yesterday in the operating room of a moving picture theatre here. The loss was placed at from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000, the higher figure being credited to agents of companies which had insured the buildings. One thousand persons were made homeless.

While only fourteen bodies have been recovered, local officials say at least 20 were killed and unofficial estimates put the number of deaths at a much higher figure. Many Chinese had underground lodgings in the district burned over and officials say it is probable many of the Chinese were trapped by the flames in the tunnels. The known dead include the Mexican operator of the motion picture machine in the theatre where the fire started, and Mabel Sanderson, believed to be from Santa Cal. Most of the other victims were Chinese.

There was no rear exit from the theatre.

FROM CARPET WEAVER TO BANK DIRECTOR

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, May 23.—Mrs. Sara Conboy was a good carpet weaver. So the other day a number of staid and serious business men got together and made her director of a bank!

It is the first time in the state that a woman has held such a position, and probably no other woman in the world. The position quite as Mrs. Conboy means to do.

For the things she learned as a carpet weaver will determine her decisions as a bank director.

"I haven't any education," she says, "except such as I've picked up myself. My father died when I was 11 years old and I went into a candy factory to work. I worked 10 hours a day for 3 weeks."

"When I was 14 I got a job in a carpet mill. Then I met a letter carrier and we were married. A year later he died. To support myself and my baby daughter I went back to work in the mill.

MRS. SARA CONBOY

Her Opportunity

"How did I ever get out of it? An offer came to go out on the road organizing textile workers. In those days organizers were not paid much. The work was hard and I was tired. But it was a chance to help other people and I wanted to forget my sorrow. So I went."

"It seems to me now that opportunity comes only once to a person. That was my opportunity. I traveled all over the United States urging shorter hours and better pay for the textile workers. A great part of the time I was working 18 hours a day that other women might have slept."

The battle is not yet won, for the 48-hour week among textile workers is by no means universal. But in the meantime Mrs. Conboy has attained to the position of international secretary and treasurer of the United Textile Workers, an organization of 155,000 members, and she holds positions in some half dozen other national organizations.

Plans For Workers

The austere position of bank director holds no terrors for her.

"The bank was organized first of all," she says, "with the money of working people. Two things I am sure of—that this money shall not be used to defeat these people who have fought for it, and that in the future exchanges money shall be honestly transacted by those to whom it is lent."

PAPERS LAUD NEW PREMIER

Appointment of Baldwin in Accordance With Popular Wishes, Says Press

Some of the Opposition Critics Regard Appointment as Triumph for Die-Hards

LONDON, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.) No incoming prime minister could wish for a better reception from the press than that accorded Stanley Baldwin. The morning newspapers say the appointment is in accordance with popular wishes and is the best solution under the circumstances. Reports from conservative quarters throughout the country confirm this opinion.

The comments of the labor and liberal newspapers are influenced of course by political considerations but none has a word against Mr. Baldwin personally. Some of the opposition critics, however, regard the appointment as a triumph for the die-hard section of the conservative party. The Daily Chronicle, a staunch supporter of David Lloyd George, says:

"It testifies to an Orientation of the conservative which is full of menace for the nation's future." Lord Curzon, the newspaper continues, was passed by because the die-hards have declared a vendetta against him. The Chronicle sneers at Mr. Baldwin's budget and regarding his part in the Anglo-American debt negotiation it says:

"It is possible that no negotiator could have got better terms, but it is certain that none would have got worse."

This remark is apparently inspired by Mr. Lloyd George's speech before his constituents at Llanfairfach last night, in which he former prime minister, notwithstanding a promise to refrain from captious criticism, made it clear that the new ministry would review less favorably from the Lloyd George following than did Lord Curzon. The speech is generally interpreted as foreshadowing a consistent George opposition.

Curzon to Remain

LONDON, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lord Curzon will continue to act as secretary for foreign affairs in the cabinet of Prime Minister Baldwin, according to unofficial predictions in government circles today.

One of Lord Curzon's first acts in his new ministry will be to deal with Russia's second reply to the British ultimatum, which it is expected Leonid Krassin, soviet representative here, will hand in today or tomorrow.

Bill Hart's Prediction Is Fulfilled

BARBARA BEDFORD

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
HOLLYWOOD, May 22.—Barbara Bedford, one of the most promising of the screen's young leading ladies, is the prophetic of Bill Hart's fulfilled. Not that the two-gangster-amateur has personally much to do with her progress, but he saw her first, overcame a rare career and helped her predict the initial obstacles.

Having just seen Miss Bedford in a preview of Jesse H. Hamilton's production of Rex Beach's "The Spoilers" for Hollywood, I'd say that Hart's prediction is an emphasis "I told you so!" For in that picture, although it will not be exhibited until fall, she amply justified his prediction.

Hart's professional interest in Barbara Bedford rekindled her admiration for his work from the days when as a Chicago school girl she wrote fan letters and collected autographed photos of film celebrities. When she came west to venture the movies, her first appearance as "extra" was in Hart's "Cradle of Courage," wherein a girl who's going to make good," he said to Director Lambert Hillyer, singing her unerringly from the mob. "The tall one, with dark hair and eyes. Note her expression. Sort of haunting, that face. Call her over." And thus she was picked for her first bit.

Regretting that he was never able to give his "discovery" the big opportunity in his own pictures he brought her to the attention of several influential directors and watched her progress with interest.

Lambert Hillyer, who coached Miss Bedford in that first bit, also directed her in "The Spoilers," in which she brings a vivid finished contribution as heroine of the Alaska epic.

Miss Bedford is a canny girl. She prefers playing leading roles in all-star casts to sparkling in lone splendor, the wisdom of which is apparent in the fact that free lance players of our culture are few and can under present keen competition of producers originally dictate their own salaries and select their own roles.

Outside of players tied up under long contracts with corporations, Miss Bedford is one of about 10 competing the select set from which most big productions are cast.

Mindful of the fate of many former stars who allowed vanity to sway better judgment, preferring stardom at any cost, Barbara Bedford some time ago secured her release from a stellar contract with a company whose vehicles she felt weren't carrying her forward.

In private life, Miss Bedford is Mrs. Albert Roscoe. Her husband played the leading male role in "Java Head," and takes a short part with her in "The Spoilers."

MERRIMACK PARK OPENS SATURDAY

Next Saturday afternoon, May 26th, has been selected as the formal opening date for Merrimack Park, the popular amusement and recreational resort located just half-way between Lowell and Lawrence on the boulevard. Starting next Saturday and continuing throughout the entire season the park will open its gates every day at one o'clock and a daily program of events of more than usual interest has been arranged to entertain the patrons of this popular fun center. The giant fountain has been overhauled and additional features have been added making this the Roller coaster of the most thrilling rides in the country. "The Old Mill Chimes," "The Bookworm," "Airplane Swings," "The Whip," "Carousell," as well as others have all been tuned up and are ready for the "Rollies" as well as the "Grown-ups" who have been housed up all winter and are just itching to get out and spend a holiday out doors. The large dance pavilion has been redecorated and many attractive features of unusual merit have been hooked by the management that will be new to the patrons and Professor John Broderick will again be seen with his famous ten piece orchestra furnishing that well known brand of "Taz" that has made Broderick's one of the most popular dance teams in New England. Professor Broderick has secured new and now musicians and has strengthened his organization to top notch speed. Then there will be the motion picture theatre with a complete change of high class pictures and musical program every day, which will include all the favorite film stars of today.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

R. F. KUTNER'S
"Recuperation," with Jack Norton & Co. featuring it, a just what is called "theatrical comedy." It is the featured attraction of the R. F. Kutner Theatre. Harry Jolson, brother of the famous Al Jolson, is one of the most successful comedians and singers of the year. Watts & Hawley, in their act, are entirely new to this city, and they put forward a decidedly novel fun-making team. Mabel Burke and Norma Lehighland, the songs which have been much prized during the past season, others on the bill of note are: Kurt & Edith Kuehn, Carr & Brey and the Mithon brothers.

THE STRAND

The last opportunity of seeing the Hollywood super-photoplay, "The Christian," with Richard Dix, Mae Busch and an all-star cast will be offered today. If you haven't seen it then you want to avail yourself of today's chance. Then there is a good comedy drama entitled "The Love Letter," with Gladys Walton starring, as well as a good Weekly Issue and other contributions.

"Are You a Failure?" a Tom Forman production with Madge Bellamy and others of film note in the cast, will be the chief attraction for the week-end, beginning Thursday. The story is an original one from the versatile pen of Larry Evans.

The second feature presents Ed (Hoot) Gibson in "The Gentleman From America." It's a story of two pals of the A.B.P. who are given a furlough and who run into a peck of trouble and adventures before they get back to the ranks again. The rest of the bill will be in keeping with the high standard established by the former features.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Harold Lloyd has all Lowell giggling, laughing and roaring by his antics in "Safety Last," his latest and greatest comedy which is playing at the Merrimack Square theatre all this week, with no advance in prices. Don't miss this feature. It's truly the funniest piece of work Lloyd has ever done and, furthermore, it's the first seven-reel comedy ever put on the screen. There is a big surrounding bill with Reginald Denny in "The Leatherpushers," one of the big attractions.

CROWN THEATRE

"Billy Jim," a comedy-drama of the most delicious sort, will be screened at the Crown theatre for a period of two days, beginning today. It presents Fred Stone, the noted musical comedy star, in one of the most lovable roles of his career and local devotees of the phonograph are certain to enjoy it to the utmost. "Billy Jim" is the story of a love-sick cowboy and his experiences in seeking the hand of a beautiful girl from the background of a delightful story—a story rich in romance and humor and adventure.

NEW JEWEL THEATRE

The New Jewel theatre management has arranged another excellent program for today and tomorrow at the popular Merrimack street theatre. The feature attraction will be "Mother of Mine," a big First National attraction in eight reels, featuring an all-star cast in a stirring story of mother love. Leo Mooney in his latest Western production, the newest episode of "The Social Buccaneer," a comedy and other features will round out the bill. Tonight Sam Cohen and his amateurs will give their usual snappy entertainment.

"You've Got to See Mamma Ev'ry Night"

The popularity of this musical, self-starting feature is spreading like an epidemic. If you want the finest version of it ever played, get the Columbia Record, by The Georgians.

Like dynamite, cathartics destroy

MEDICAL science is emphatic on this point. "Probably one of the most frequent causes of constipation" as one well-known physician declares, "is the indiscriminate use of cathartics."

Here is the reason: although cathartics give temporary relief, they do it by nervous irritation, and require larger and larger doses in order to blast their way through. Little by little the muscles of the intestines (which should expel by their own action the "waste" that is clogging your system) grow weak with lack of exercise, and finally unable to act at all.

The only real remedy for constipation lies in building up these muscles—in gently encouraging them to act for themselves.

Restoring thousands of sufferers to perfect normal health

That is why so many physicians and hospitals are prescribing Fleischmann's Yeast today. Every cake of Fleischmann's fresh yeast consists of millions of tiny living plants which soften and increase the bulk of the waste matter. This greater bulk gently encourages the intestinal muscles to act, and at the same time strengthens them by offering just the resistance they need.

Every such action gives these intestinal muscles normal, natural exercise (something that violent cathartics can never do) and so gradually trains them back to a strong, healthy, active state.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women are finding in Fleischmann's Yeast the key to freedom from all the evils of constipation. They are learning that a body freed from poisons means such health and vigor as they have never known.

Fleischmann's Yeast, like any other food, must be eaten regularly to secure results.

Eat at least two or three cakes a day—plain, or dissolved in water, milk or fruit juices—preferably half an hour before a meal or the last thing at night. If you eat it plain, follow with a glass of water. Get several cakes at a time—they will keep several days in a cool, dry place. Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast! All grocers have it.

What this does for the muscles of your arm, Fleischmann's Yeast does for the muscles of your intestines—giving them natural, healthy exercise.

"A vigor and strength unknown for years"

"I have been subject to constipation for the past fifteen years" writes a Western business man. "After having tried many remedies with no results, I began taking Fleischmann's Yeast three times a day. Within a few months I have been relieved of this trouble and now feel a vigor and strength unknown to me for years."

OBSERVE EIGHT-HOUR DAY ANNIVERSARY

The 22d anniversary of the eight-hour working day in this country was observed last evening with a social and dance in Liberty hall under the auspices of Local 43, Carpenters' union. The affair was largely attended and the evening's program was very enjoyable. In the early part of the evening a variety program was carried out under the direction of Daniel McFadden, a charter member of the organization. Those who spoke were: Phylis M. Green, of Troy, N. Y., representative of the executive board of the first district of the National Carpenters' union; Joseph Convery, Entertainment numbers were given by Jack McAville, Edward Thompson, Charles J. Evans, Misses Leola, Mary, Edna and Bertha Dean, Paul Angelo accompanied on the piano. There was also a fancy dance by Miss Miss.

50 SACKS OF PARCEL POST DESTROYED

WORCESTER, May 23.—About 50 sacks filled with parcel post were destroyed here today by fire which was discovered in a stool railway mail coach, attached to the Albany-bound express from Boston. Postal and railroad employees and firemen saved most of the carload of sacks from being destroyed although much mail was damaged. The mail car was bound from Boston to Washington, and was to be dropped off at Springfield. The car was out of the express which was delayed but a few minutes. Fire destruction of the car was said by officials to have prevented total loss of the 1200 sacks. Officials believe the fire was started either by spontaneous combustion or by the breaking open of a package of inflammable goods.

TAKE ACTION ON DEATH OF DR. SMITH

At a special meeting of Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus, last night, attended although much mail was damaged. The mail car was bound from lagher and Dr. James F. Gaffney were appointed a committee to draw up resolutions on the death of Dr. Thomas B. Smith. A delegation was also appointed to attend the funeral today.

A meeting of the dramatic committee is called by Chairman D. S. O'Brien for tomorrow evening to clear up final details in connection with Monday night's show, "The Witching Hour."

NANCE O'NEIL PLAYING AT THE OPERA HOUSE

After an absence of many years, America's greatest tragedienne, Miss Nance O'Neil, familiar to Lowell's older devotees of the legitimate stage and ever increasing in popularity with the younger element came back to Lowell with the Al Luntzinger stock players in the Opera House last night, appearing with all the dexterity of her earlier days in the leading role in the big Broadway attraction, "The Passion Flower."

As Raimunda, the soul-stricken Spanish mother, Miss O'Neil portrays a character that calls for emotionalism in the highest degree, and in the initial presentation last evening, the star

needed no other enunciation than the awe and suspense in which she held her audience in the various trying scenes. She lived the character of Raimunda in a clever, appealing manner, showing that in the interpretation of that character, she has found one of the greatest roles of her brilliant career.

"The Passion Flower" tells the story of a great love, Raimunda, intensely attached to her second husband, Estaban, fails to notice the burning desire in the latter's heart for Acacia, Raimunda's beautiful daughter, and known in the busy Spanish village as "The Passion Flower." Alfred Hickman plays the part of Estaban a very exacting role which requires the application of everything known to his art. Mr. Hickman makes a splendid Estaban, a husband, lover, intriguer and murderer the whole being bound up in the one individual Estaban. In a style calculated to enthrall and captivate the attention of any audience, Miss O'Neil, leading lady of the Luntzinger players, steps into the role of the daughter, Acacia, and supports Miss O'Neil as only a woman of her experienced talent can. Decidedly adapted to the type of Spanish daughter she represents, Miss Hickman fulfills the role of "The Passion Flower" with a dignity and grace that is only surpassed by the cleverness of the tragic interpretations of Miss O'Neil herself.

Victor Brown, leading man of the Luntzinger players, is seen to advantage as Norbert, former sweetheart of Acacia, and supposed murderer of Estaban, a rival and betrayer to Acacia. The latter character falls to the lot of Fred Harvey, whose limited presence on the stage was enough to stamp him as a supporter of the first rank. Mr. Brown played Norbert with his customary facile attitude.

"Rube," the bad man, was wonderfully enacted by Richard Morgan, whose characterization of such parts in previous Opera House presentations, has met with most favorable criticism. Added to his prestige in the person of Rube, Mr. Morgan has a faculty for making his audience like him even though he appears in a despicable character. His make-up as Rube, his thrilling voice and the very naturalness of his interpretation added materially to winning new friends for "The Passion Flower."

In the role of Juliana, the loquacious, but lovable old servant, Rachel May Clarke is well deserving of the highest commendation, while Marguerite Flavin, Helen Kinsel, J. Russell Webster and Malcolm MacLeod, the latter a typical Spanish father completed a cast worthy of the great tragedienne for the noticeable co-operation between the star and her supporting players last night placed "The Passion Flower" on a high pedestal in the local theatrical world and will, no doubt, continue to meet with the success so characteristic of all Nance O'Neil stage vehicles.

Y. M. H. A. JUNIORS HOLD MEETING

A regular meeting of the Y.M.H.A. Jr. was held last evening at Old Fellows hall, Middlesex street, and it was planned to hold a dance on June 29 at the Pawtucket beach.

A spy ball team has been formed and has held several practice games at Lincoln park. Last Sunday the Knickerbocker club barked to Robin Hill and they are planning on holding several more hikes in the near future. After the completion of the business, dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

POLICEWOMAN SPEAKER AT CLUB MEETING

Miss Emily Skilton, a local policewoman, gave a talk on the troubles of the young people of today to the members of the Educational club at their regular meeting in the Central M. E. church yesterday afternoon.

Prior to Miss Skilton's talk, the regular business of the meeting was transacted with Mrs. Harry J. Maguire, the president, in the chair, and Mrs. Foss acting as secretary pro tem. Miss Skilton told of the influence of the social life in a community on the home and said that there was no institution so important as the home but that the influences received in the home were sometimes not for the best. Bad influences were sometimes the lack of mothers. She seemed to have many homes where girls are allowed to do as they please because a few tears soon change the mother's determination to make the girls do a thing and they are allowed to run wild.

"From the dance hall," she said, "girls will go off in a fast riding car and here oft-times comes trouble. It has been said that a young man in a high-powered car, jazz and late hours and he will ride to ruin. Take, too, the 'flappers' who will be the companions of these men. They care for nothing but powder, paint and bobbed hair."

Miss Skilton also scored the young women who carry on a too familiar conversation with the young men where they work, and who become altogether too familiar with foreigners and even go out walking with them. She said that the girls did not seem to realize the danger that lurks in being too familiar in their conversation.

In conclusion she said: "Now, I will say that if you get the community interested in the boys and girls, the community will then take steps to see that the right recreation is afforded them, which in the end will be for the future good of the community and, in turn, mean better and happier homes. Have we not a tremendous responsibility resting upon us, that of helping to make the young grow up ornaments in the community, living valuable and useful lives?"

CHURCH BOARD MEETING

The regular meeting of the official board of the Central M. E. church was held last night in the church vestry, but owing to the lack of a quorum no important business was transacted. The meeting had been called for the purpose of making a survey of the expenditures of the church, but the matter was indefinitely postponed.

20,000,000 IN U. S. ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 23.—Present widespread education in the United States was declared to be a condition unprecedented in history by Joy Elmer Morgan, editor of the Journal of the National Education association in an address today before the special libraries association.

"Those who damn the public school," he asserted, "fail to take into account the great masses of the American people whose faith in the school is second only to their faith in the American home. In spite of shortcomings, the elementary schools of the United States are reaching 20,000,000 children. These schools are more efficient than the schools of a generation ago."

HUSBANDS BEWARE! DON'T READ!

If The Wheels Stopped Turning

If the wheels in every one of the sixty mills operated by the American Woolen Company stopped turning today, more than 35,000 men and women would be jobless tomorrow.

Affecting all classes from the wool grower in the field to the man on the street, the cessation of the activities of this company would react adversely upon every industry in the country, such is the scope and magnitude of its operations.

That the wheels may continue to turn, that countless thousands may continue to be happy at their work, that men and women may continue to buy good clothing at fair prices, and that prosperity may continue to be the reward of endeavor—that is the purpose of the American Woolen Company and the reason for its existence.

Make THE Backyard Pay

BY W. R. BEATTIE
Extension Horticulturist, United States Department of Agriculture

Flowers are a mark of refinement and culture regardless of where they appear. The woodland beds of violets, the snowy banks of laurel, the blue-blossomed of the plains and a thousand others are nature's expression of refinement.

Flowers about the home, like the clothing worn by the inmates, bespeak the very soul of the people who dwell within. Reasonable simplicity in planting flowers and shrubs about the home is a mark of good breeding and artistic refinement.

Extensive plantings of shrubbery and flowers are not essential, in fact are undesirable in most cases. The finest effects can generally be produced by using plants that are either native to the region or those that may be easily grown from seeds or cuttings.

To Beautify Home

To make home surroundings beautiful, first, secure a smooth, clean carpet of grass on the lawn; second, provide suitable shade trees where the available space is sufficient; third, plant a reasonable variety of shrubbery or other plants around the house so as to have something in bloom throughout the year.

Another factor in home adornment is the use of annual and perennial foliage and blooming plants to fill in the shrubbery and provide harmonious color effects. In the main, the scheme should be one of border effects, the center or main body of the lawn being kept free of any plantings.

The most universal shrubs are berries, thornbush or Thunberg's barberry, that causes wheat rust, but a very ornamental dwarf shrub or hedge plant that bears small red seed pods that remain on the plants all winter; spiraea or bridalwreath, Viburnum Americanum or high-bush cranberry, cornus alba, which is a dwarf shrub of the dogwood group, and several varieties of dwarf junipers which are evergreen.

There is considerable range in varieties among these. The local florists can suggest those that are especially adapted to the locality. The great danger lies in the selection of too many different kinds and of overdoing the planting.

Splendid effects can be secured with annual flowers, also those known as perennials which bloom the second season. Scarlet sage or salvia, sweet peas, geraniums, cannas, asters, dahlias, annual phlox, hardy phlox, cornflowers or bachelor's button and a host of others are adapted for producing immediate or quick results.

There are a number of hardy climbers for porches and over arbors, including several varieties of climbing roses, wisteria, clematis and others. Everblooming roses of the bush type are always appropriate but do best when planted in a separate bed from the shrubbery or the annual plants.

LIGHTIN' COMING DIRECT FROM BOSTON

"Lightnin'" the famous comedy that has eclipsed every record for big receipts and length of run in New York, Chicago and Boston, will be seen at the Opera House for two nights beginning Monday, May 25th.

Written by Winchell Smith and the late Frank Bacon, with splendid characterizations and a real idea as a basis, "Lightnin'" is said to provide one of those evenings in the theatre that are all too rare. "Lightnin'" is described as a bright, wholesome American comedy, having as its central figure Lightnin' Bill Jones, one of the qualities, most lovable, most genuinely humorous characters that the stage has seen in years. He is a Civil war veteran, a tyler, the champion liar of his county, a shiftless never-do-well, but withal, a philosopher and true friend. There has been no more lovable character in the theatre since the days of the older Jefferson.

This is one of the few New England cities outside of Boston that will see "Lightnin'" with this specially organized cast, which includes most of the original players who were identified with the New York and Chicago engagements, and further strengthened by the pick of the other two organizations which have been presenting "Lightnin'" on tour for the past two years. Percy Pollock, who achieved remarkable popularity during the run of "Lightnin'" this past winter at the Hollis Street theatre, Boston, will appear here in the title role.

SENTENCED FOR ASSAULTING CHILD

Found guilty on an indictment alleging statutory offense against 12-year-old Lucile Normandin, Edward Belanger, aged 35 years, of Lowell, was sentenced to two and one-half years in the house of correction by Judge Hammond in the superior court at East Cambridge yesterday.

Belanger was without counsel at the opening of the trial and in view of the seriousness of the charge, Assistant District Attorney Hushnell suggested that counsel be appointed by the court. The suggestion was adopted in the appointment of Attorney Herbert M. Belanger.

Testimony in the case was to the effect that Belanger met the little girl in Lowell on a Saturday afternoon about three weeks ago and after she had been escorted to a deserted spot in the Fairtucket boulevard, the assault was committed.

The Normandin girl was forced to give testimony through an interpreter, as it was explained that she was unable to speak or understand English, although born in Lowell. The presiding justice was astonished by the fact

A MEDICINE OF MERIT

A proprietary medicine, like everything else that comes before the public, has to prove its merits. The law of the survival of the fittest applies in this field as in others. The reason for the tremendous success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is because it has been fulfilling a real human need for forty years, so that today thousands of American women owe their health and happiness to the marvelous power of this famous medicine. It has been made from roots and herbs—nature's remedy for woman's ills—that a girl of her years, born in Lowell, could not speak the English language. It was explained that such a situation was possible as the child attended a school where only the French language was taught.

The Health Doctor says—

The biggest thought in the world today is to keep well. Sickness is always dangerous—always permanently weakens the system. The only perfectly well man or woman is the one who has never been sick.

The two golden rules of health are to eat wisely and to keep clean. Much sickness is caused by dirt. A clean skin is the best protection for general health.

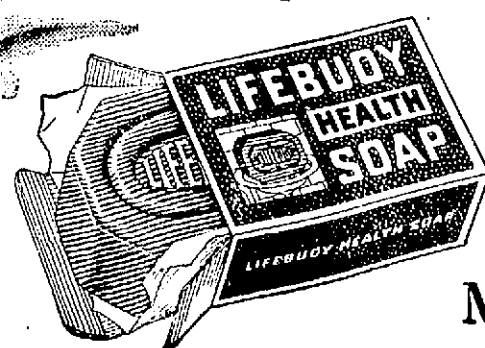

Many soaps have been made by perfumers. But one soap is produced by scientists who have but one purpose—to guard and preserve the health of all cleanly people.

Lifebuoy has a deep red color because the rich, wholesome palm-fruit oil which is one of its chief ingredients is red.

Lifebuoy is not sweetly perfumed—for its wonderful health element is an antiseptic which naturally gives to the soap a wholesome, healthy odor.

You mothers, are the health doctors of your family. Your only thought is to be certain that they are clean—antiseptically pure all over—every pore cleansed of the dirt that is always in the air and street, cleansed of the dirt of crowded trolleys, of stray dogs and cats, of unclean playmates.

So buy Lifebuoy today—because it is the perfect, modern health soap.

Mothers
Let's be frank about Dirt

YOU are the Health Doctor of your family. We provide what is rated the world over as an invaluable aid to family health. So we two can discuss freely and factually this subject of dirt—of family cleanliness.

Just what particular kind of dangerous dirt does your son touse his hands and hair and face against every day at school recess?

Is he in perilous contact with a jolly chum who unfortunately may live in a home less clean and safe than yours—a home where there is contagious sickness?

Is your son daily exposed to the millions of invisible enemies in dirt?

Your husband, too, cannot avoid these same dangerous contacts in crowded cars, elevators, street crowds. Germ-laden dust of city streets covers his hands and face.

What You Can Do

What can you do about it? Remember—you are the Health Doctor. Your efforts can combat disease. The responsibility is yours.

Make them purify their skin—as many times a day as possible. Don't be satisfied with just surface, superficial washing with ordinary soap.

It isn't merely to have them neat at the table that you have trained them to wash regularly—it is to guard them against the lurking, ever active dangers of infectious dirt.

The Soap that Guards Health

So now let us talk about Lifebuoy, the wonderful health soap which daily is protecting millions all over the world.

Lifebuoy is more than soap—it is a health habit. No purer soap is made. The world has yielded her finest and purest oils—the bland, skin-nourishing oil that is squeezed from the flesh of palm-fruit and the creamy oil of coconuts. These rich oils are blended into an absolutely neutral soap. Lifebuoy has not a trace of free-alkali—the element in ordinary soap which burns and dries up the skin. Constant use of Lifebuoy keeps the skin so soft and glowing with health that you learn to rely on it entirely for skin beauty. And your husband will tell you that men everywhere call it a "he-man's soap."

The Health Element

Lifebuoy is not a commonplace, perfumed soap for the guest bath room. Perfume does not clean—does not purify. Lifebuoy is scientifically made by the world's largest soapmakers for just one purpose—to purify skin. And its most wonderful element—which makes Lifebuoy a protector against bacteria—which is guarding the health of millions—naturally has a pronounced healthful odor. This odor vanishes in a few seconds—never clings to the hands or hair—but the protection remains. Lifebuoy acts as a remover of body odors.

Your duty is to see that your children and your husband are clean—scientifically clean—purified with rich creamy lather that penetrates every pore with its gentle, sure protection. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Keep Lifebuoy wherever there is running water

In order to be sure that your children and husband use Lifebuoy regularly keep a cake always ready wherever there is running water.

What Co-operation
Has Done

Little more than half a century ago, Gustavus F. Swift borrowed $20 from his father and started in the packing business.

Hard work on his part and on the part of the associates whom he presently gathered about him caused the business to grow.

When first incorporated, Swift & Company had six shareholders. The nation was growing and needed meat, and the young company grew also. As more money was needed the business was enlarged by enlisting the co-operation of more shareholders.

The first little plant at Barnstable, Mass., has given way to 23 modern packing plants strategically located. More than 400 branch houses and 600 car routes distribute the meat carried in more than 6,000 refrigerator cars.

Today Swift & Company's service in meat to retailers here and abroad represents the effort of nearly 100,000 people co-operating with their savings or daily toil.

More than 45,000 men and women have co-operated with us by investing their money in shares of Swift & Company.

Nearly 50,000 men and women who work in these offices, plants and branch houses—16,000 of whom also are shareholders—are giving us their co-operation in building the business. They take a just pride in the promptness and precision of its service and in the uniformity and high quality of its products. Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon, "Silverleaf" Brand Pure Lard, Premium Frankfurts and other Swift products are symbols of their hearty co-operation and of their belief in the Company.

MANY RADIO PROBLEMS

Leaders in This Country Are Studying the Situation in England

America's radio problems are looming larger and leaders in the industry in this country are studying the situation in England, where a demand for "wireless freedom" and relief from "the boredom of the lustreless programs" has gone up.

Conditions on this side of the Atlantic, it is pointed out, cannot be finally resolved without close consideration of the point of view of the individual.

Listeners are multiplying so rapidly, as a result of the adoption of radio instrumentalities by churches, universities and newspapers, that discussion of proposed legislation meets with a wide range of suggestions. All this, radio men say, means that the man in the street is becoming an increasingly important factor in shaping the development and regulation of the art. The National Radio chamber of commerce is adding listeners to its membership so that the voice of the public may be heard when constructive plans are framed.

In England, it is said, 200,000 people are now breaking the law by listening in without licenses. The law, according to the "London Daily Express," is a dead letter. Opponents of the British monopoly are reviving the cry, "you cannot indict a whole nation." The wholesale "piracy" exists, it is said, because listeners in cannot buy the license they require.

The whole question in England is said to hang on the word "transmission." "Can the meaning by any quibble be stretched to include 'listening-in'?" it is asked. The whole fabric of the wireless broadcasting monopoly in England, where the wireless telegraphy act of 1904 gives the postmaster-general the power to enforce wireless licenses, may be based upon an illegality, it is charged. English firms and newspapers are offering to begin broadcasting at once for nothing in order to provide better programs.

C. D. Cooper of New York, one of the governors of the National Radio chamber of commerce, and a member of the Hoover conference committee, says that the English situation is a warning to the United States. "There has been much discussion as to ways and means of supporting broadcasting," according to Mr. Cooper. "It has been suggested that we use the British method, by which a government controlled monopoly was formed, the postoffice department collecting a tax from all owners of receivers. This tax is used to support the broadcasting monopoly.

"In the United States, it has been found that there are plenty of private business organizations, including newspapers, which are willing to furnish free broadcasts to the public. The newspapers are coming to regard broadcasting as a part of their function as publishers of news. Education considers broadcasting as a useful element of extension teaching. Manufacturers view broadcasting as part of their regular overhead, necessary in the manufacture and sale of equipment.

"Therefore, the American public should be assured of permanent, free broadcasting, in contrast with the conditions prevailing in England, where agitation against monopoly is assuming considerable proportions.

"Monopoly exists in England. We have no monopoly in the United States and we should have none, either of broadcasting or of apparatus essential to the transmission and reception of broadcasting. The whole field of radio in this country should be kept open to competition because it is only by competition that manufacturers receive the incentive to work for greater efficiency. It is competition that has made the United States lead the world in industrial supremacy and it is competition that will heighten this supremacy through radio, which may be destined to work a revolution in human thought and understanding."

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 5

As the flying horse went over the land of dominoes, Jack wondered about the little houses that stood in rows along the streets. "How can people live in those houses when there aren't any windows?" he asked Flighty. And, just then, every house opened on top and heads came out.

Jack immediately heard a great roar of laughter and saw that every little head was shaking back and forth. "Don't mind them," said Flighty, "they are the Happy Ha Hs, and they laugh so much that they disturb the dominoes of Domino town. That's why they live in houses without windows."

Then the laughing suddenly stopped and each little Happy Ha Hs head disappeared and once more the Ha Hs' homes seemed just like tightly closed boxes. "They won't come out again to laugh so far long time," said Flighty, "so we might as well travel over and see the Palace of the Clouds." (Continued.)
